It Will Be War When Bootlegger Gets Armored Ships

BOOTLEGGING is one thing. Rum running is another. And rum running in armed and armored ships, as now threatened, is still another. Bootlegging is law-breaking. In this, the most lawless country in the world, there will doubtless always be some of it. Rum running is law defiance, plus smuggling. No self-respecting government could overlook that. But armed rum running is war, which no government dares meet with anything less than war. If the armed vessels are foreign, they are enemies, they are to be swept from the seas. If American, they are pirates, to be destroyed at all costs. Friendly foreign governments should forbid their ships to arm, and outlaw them if they do. Then any unlicensed privateer coming with arms to make war on Americans will have no rights, except to be blown out of the sea on sight. Cherchez, if you must, such sneaking sympathy for the sneaking bootlegger as your personal self-respect admits. But not for the armed national enemy, who makes open war on your country, even if it is in the cause of smuggling in your booze.

Mine operators are working to cheapen coal, at its point of dearest cost. They seek to reduce its loss of lives from three to one per million tons. Even that seems a shocking price, but it is less than most industries pay. Industry kills more people than war. Fortunately, it is also more useful. And we have at least become civilized enough to put on industry the money cost of its human wreckage. We may kill and maim men for our comfort, but we have quit penalizing their dependents by pauperizing them also.

INCIDENTALLY, the coal business has always involved another human wastage, which only better organization can save. Coal requires more workers, at higher cost per ton and lower incomes per year than ought to be necessary. Consumers pay the extra cost, and workers suffer under the lesser incomes, to the disadvantage of everybody. If only as many mines were operated as are needed to supply the necessary coal, and these were operated evenly all the year, many fewer workers, better paid, could produce that coal much more cheaply. The situation is better than it was, but it will not be right until there is better co-operation between now competing mines, and better large-scale storage.

Meantime, consumers can help, and save money for themselves, by buying as much as possible of the winter coal during the slack summer season. Buy your coal now.

SENATOR WILLIAM H. KING, of Utah, chief of the "wets" in the original fight against the Eighteenth Amendment, and still a pronounced opponent of prohibition, gives to his fellow-wets the same warning repeatedly expressed in these columns, that legalizing the thing they are protesting for are permanently impossible.

The amendment, he points out, can not be changed except by a vote which everybody knows is impossible, and while the amendment stands, no alteration of the Volstead Act to permit anything intoxicating is constitutional. So Senator King advises the wets to concentrate on "2.75 per cent beer and wine," which he thinks would pass the courts, and to work for this not as an entering wedge toward something more, but as the final goal.

This, remember, is the advice, not of a "dry," but of the very chief of the "wets."

One is tempted to ask, first, why the "and wine?" There is no such thing as 2.75 per cent wine. The "and wine," in that phrase, means exactly as much as "and main," "right and main," or "stock in the back and stone."

"Beer and wine" means "beer."

But, anyhow, it is well to get the legal point clarified, on authority that the wets will accept. Then the practical question remains. How much of the "2.75 beer" was really 2.75? And wherein would the places where that beer was sold differ from saloons? If the legal fog is cleared out of the way, this is what is left.

Jury Completed In Shepherd Case

CHICAGO, June 10.—The jury which is to decide whether William D. Shepherd murdered his millionaire wife, Billy McClintock, was completed this afternoon.

The last panel of four was sworn in this morning, filling the jury box with 12 men who have formed no opinion on the merits of the case. Nearly four weeks were consumed in finding 12 who could qualify.

Taking of testimony is expected to get under way tomorrow, after attorneys for both sides have delivered their opening statements.

OSLO, June 10.—The Farm and Hobby, relief ships of the Amundsen-Ellsworth polar flying expedition, reported today they had seen nothing yet of the explorers in their scouting.

(The Farm and Hobby left Amundsen's base last week to search the fringe of the Arctic ice sheet for trace of the missing explorer.)

French Premier Flies to Morocco

PAINLEVE ON AIR TRIP TO RIFF FRONT

Peace Will Not Be Made With Krim As Long As He Seeks to Stir Islam

GOES TO BATTLE SCENE

Rebel Warrior Must Give Up Intention of Driving French from No. Africa

By A. L. BRADFORD

United Press Staff Correspondent

TOULOUSE, France, June 10.—France is first disposed to have peace with the Riffian warrior Abdel-Krim—but not so long as the latter battles for Fez and seeks to stir Islam against France.

Thus Premier Painleve described to me today, in the dawn before hopping off by air to Morocco, his position toward the Riffian war, which he has set forth to see with his own eyes.

"The day that the Riffians renounce their proclaimed intention of taking Fez and accept an honest peace with normal economic relations with our zone and the natives," Painleve said, "France will be ready to apply the words of Marshal Lyautey—that the enemies of today will be the collaborators of tomorrow."

Where Peace is Impossible

He paused, and then with even more emphasis than before he continued:

"Peace is impossible while Krim has the intention of causing all the Moslem world to rise up and eject us from Africa and destroy our works there."

Then he reiterated what he had already told his deputies in Paris, namely, that France's aim in Morocco is solely to establish peace without any intention of taking "an inch of territory."

He explained that he had been thinking for some time of going to Morocco, and the fact that he had suddenly taken the decision to fly to the battle ground did not indicate that the French military situation there was serious.

"A necessary condition for peace in Africa," he said, "is a firm, definite accord between France and Spain."

"We are going to establish a blockade of the coast against contraband arms and food supplies for Krim, and when this program is fixed we will take all necessary military and naval measures to maintain the blockade."

In Regulation Costume

Painleve was dressed in regulation aviation costume, and as he stood up in the car he drew on his ear-pierced leather head-gear and overcoat to shield him against the chill of the aerial heights.

The motors began roaring.

Suddenly Painleve recalled he had forgotten his cane.

With true Latin fervor, he gesticulated wildly to his friends on the ground.

"Where is it; where is it?" he shouted, smilingly, while his absent-minded chaffed him for his absent-mindedness and scurried about to get it.

PAINLEVE ARRIVES AT RABAT, MOROCCO.

RABAT, French Morocco, June 10.—Premier Paul Painleve, who flew from Toulouse to inspect the situation in Morocco and confer with the commanding French generals in charge of operations against the Riffians, arrived here today at 6 p. m.

Child Lovers In Pact to Kill Selves

WELLESLEY, Mass., June 10.—Fifteen-year-old Priscilla Amador and her school-boy sweetheart, Sterling Mills, preferred death to a "puppy love" that could not be fulfilled.

Parental objection to their marriage plans is believed to have been responsible for their suicide pact, which resulted in the death of the girl and which may have fatal consequences for Mills.

The lovers were found in a wooded spot near here late yesterday.

CONGRESSMAN GOES TO JAIL FOR CONTEMPT

PIKEVILLE, Ky., June 10.—The trial of Congressman John Langley, Kentucky, Republican, charged with drunkenness, was continued indefinitely this afternoon. The complaint against Langley was signed by a woman.

(By United Press)

PIKEVILLE, Ky., June 10.—Completing a 10-hour jail sentence for contempt of court, Congressman John Langley, Republican, walked across the city prison yard today to face a charge of drunkenness.

Summoned before the court on a warrant sworn out by a woman, the congressman proclaimed with an oath that the warrant was a lie.

Justice of the Peace Harris fined him $10 for contempt. When Langley repeated his statement, the judge ordered him to jail for 10 hours.

Langley is under sentence of two years and fine of $10,000 for his part in a liquor conspiracy. His appeal in the case is pending.

ARREST FLAPPER MEMBER OF GANG

LOS ANGELES, June 10.—An alleged flapper bandit, member of the notorious gang headed by Eddie Miller, who was slain Monday in a revolver duel with Police Sergeant Frank S. Harper, was arrested early today.

She is Mrs. Ray A. Slawson, 22. The girl's husband, also accused of banditry, was taken into custody at the same time.

Detectives trailed the pair after checking up on the movements of the slain bandit leader the night before his fatal gun battle.

The suspects were held incommunicado while police searched for other members of the gang.

Mrs. Slawson, according to police, was identified as the "flapper bandit" who accompanied the Miller robber band on its many depredations.

65 CASES OF BOOZE SEIZED ALONG BEACH

Officers Patrolling Highway Overtake 'Grunion Hunters' and Arrest Two

FINES LEVIED OF $525

Truck Driver Contributes $500, Another Gets $25 For Carrying Weapon

SIXTY-FIVE CASES of whiskey and gin valued at approximately $6000 were captured early this morning when county peace officers overhauled a new truck on the state highway near Sunset Beach.

A few minutes after the truck had been stopped and the driver handcuffed, officers stopped three men walking on the highway. The suspects disclaimed any knowledge of rum running, declaring that they were "grunion hunters." Owing to absence of evidence, the officers were forced to release two of the three suspects, one of the suspects being held on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Would Make It Right.

The "grunion hunter" held, who later gave his name as Walter Brown, Los Angeles, offered to "make it right" with the officers if they would allow him and the truck driver to escape, officers say.

In justice court this morning, Brown and J. C. Willis, Los Angeles, the driver who was charged with possession, were fined $25 and $500 respectively, the fines being paid by Brown, who had $600 in bills on his person when arrested.

The capture of the booze cargo took place at 3:30 o'clock.

The officers whose vigilance was responsible for the arrests are Chief Criminal Deputy Ed McClellan, Constable Jesse Elliott, Constable Joe Ryan and Deputy Jack Roberts.

The overhauling of the truck was accomplished by McClellan and Elliott, the other two officers being on the beach watching for rum runners at the time.

Comes From Side Street.

Sighting the truck pulling on to the highway from a side street, McClellan and Elliott pulled along side and ordered the driver, Willis, to stop. As Willis made a move as though to pull a gun, Elliott stuck his gun in the man's ribs, warning him that he would pull the trigger if he didn't raise his hands pronto. When the truck was searched, an automatic sawed-off shotgun was found in the driver's seat.

About this time, three men were seen on the highway. They were found to be dripping wet. They explained by claiming they had been hunting grunion.

Booze Contained in Sacks.

The liquor captured this morning was in the same kind of sacks as that captured near Laguna Beach recently, leading officers to believe that the booze came from the same rum ship. Under personal supervision of Sheriff Sam Jernigan, the cargo was added to the 255 cases obtained in the Laguna Beach haul. The liquor is being kept in the basement of the old jail, pending its removal to Los Angeles to be turned over to federal officers.

Following payment of their fines this morning, Brown and Willis walked out of the jail arm in arm. "Look us up when you're in Los Angeles," they laughed, as they left.

Sheriff Jernigan took occasion to compliment Officers McClellan, Elliott, Ryan and Roberts on their work this morning, saying that it was due entirely to their watchfulness that the liquor was captured.

Rob Artist of $1 and Hurl Him Into Lake

OAKLAND, June 10.—Being an artist is one thing, but being an artist with only $1 in your pocket is something else, concluded Carl A. Grundy, 27, here today, as he spent the day indoors, recovering from a wetting inflicted when two holdup men threw him into Lake Merritt, angered by his lack of money. The robbers took the dollar.

MANY ARRESTS RESULT FROM KLAN BATTLE

(By United Press)

CLINTON, Mass., June 10.—Following another outbreak of Worcester county's anti-Klan war, resulting in injury to more than 20 persons, 36 men were arraigned in district court here today, charged with disturbing the peace.

All cases were continued until June 20. The arrests were made after members of the K. K. K., returning from a mass meeting in Berlin, had been attacked by 500 anti-Klansmen, who used fists and clubs in efforts to batter the sheeted gentry into submission.

In addition to the 36 men already held, summonses for 50 more are being prepared, police announced today.

The street battle occurred at midnight as the Klansmen alighted from their automobiles. The riot continued for nearly half an hour. Police reports said many were injured but none seriously.

KERR SENTENCED TO 5 YEARS IN PEN

Dr. Franklin E. Kerr, of Garden Grove, was sentenced to five years in federal prison late today by Federal Judge William P. James, in Los Angeles, for mailing poisoned candy to a divorced wife, Dr. Luella Kerr, last Thanksgiving.

Attorneys for the physician announced they would appeal to the circuit court of appeals.

Kerr was convicted by a jury after a trial which last 10 days. His former wife, whom he was accused of attempting to murder, was the chief witness against him.

Takes Too Many Kinds of Poison To Cause Death

LOS ANGELES, June 10.—Dr. Clifford A. Steepelt, 35, failed in his attempts to commit suicide because he drank too many poisons. The various drugs acted as antidotes to each other, police doctors said.

The physician was still alive today, although he had consumed sufficient poison, if properly imbibed, to kill a dozen men.

His mother found him in a vacant house with a chloroform mask on his face, an injection of morphine in his arm and evidence that he had swallowed a dose of strychnine.

What Made Noah Drunk? Whiskey? No, Drys Answer

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The board of temperance prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church today issued a statement defending prohibition in which Noah, Nero and Alexander were listed as the conspicuous "drunks" of history. "What made them drunk? Whiskey was not made in their day," the board said in answering the argument that it might be feasible to prohibit distilled liquors, leaving beer and wine for those who want them.

Lone Bandit Gets $4000 In Jewels

LOS ANGELES, June 10.—Cool and unaided, a bandit walked into a downtown jewelry shop here today, held up I. Pollock, proprietor, and walked out with $4000 worth of gems.

After leaving the gem shop with his loot, the bandit mingled with a crowd of pedestrians and disappeared, afoot.

Police are looking for him on the strength of Pollock's description.

SCOPES TO GO HOME AFTER 5 BUSY DAYS

Evolution Professor Meets Many Noted Men During His Stay In Metropolis

SEES GOTHAM SIGHTS

With List of Counsel Complete, Teacher of Monkey Theory to Quit N. Y.

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, June 10.—After what probably have been the five busiest days of his life, John Thomas Scopes, the country school teacher who has monopolized the front pages of the nation's newspapers, plans to leave tonight for Dayton, Tenn., hotbed of the evolution controversy in which he is the principal figure.

Scopes' five days in the metropolis have been crammed full of conferences and during his brief stay here the now famous teacher has talked with more noted men than he would have seen in 100 years in his home town.

Definite Plans for Defense

With the enlistment of the services of Clarence Darrow, Dudley Field Malone, Bainbridge Colby and others, representing some of the nation's finest legal talent, plans for Scopes' defense are very definite. Today will be spent in brief conferences with his supporters, after which, with Dr. John E. Neal, his senior counsel, Scopes will start back to Dayton.

In outlining the case, Darrow said there were two main issues involved:

"The first is whether evolution is contrary to the teaching of God as contained in the Bible," he said. "Mr. Bryan believes it is. I do not. I find nothing in evolution contrary to the Bible and I have been an evolutionist for 50 years."

Question of Law Involved

"The second issue, which is even more important, but which will come afterward, is whether a state has a right to prescribe education in science."

Being one of constitutional law, this second question would more likely be fought out in a higher court than that of Dayton, in which Scopes is to be tried, Darrow said.

Former U. S. Senator Charles W. Thomas, of Colorado, today was added to the list of counsel for Scopes. With the addition of Thomas, Scopes' counsel was completed. John R. Neal will be chief counsel.

Nude Dance Sponsors Are Arrested

PASADENA, June 10.—John Evans, commander of the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Floyd Sosey, son of the Pasadena township constable, must appear in police court here tomorrow on a charge of promoting a public nuisance by nude dancing. They are accused of permitting two "hulu" dancers to perform in complete nudity before a party of the veterans. Complaints from non-members of the ex-soldiers' organization who failed to witness the performance caused the arrests.

NEW COMPANY ENTERS MESA OIL DISTRICT

The Petroleum Midway Oil company had today entered the Costa Mesa oil field. The company secured a 25-acre lease on Anaheim street, west and north of Costa Mesa, yesterday. Dr. J. W. Wherry, J. Tompkins and Mrs. R. Taylor are the lessees.

Conditions of the lease call for drilling within 90 days. A bonus of $200 an acre was paid, and a monthly rental of $10 an acre is to go into effect in 90 days and continue until the oil royalties exceed the rental.

The Santa Fe Springs Supply company also was casting about the field yesterday for a drilling location. The company did not desire to lease but was willing to drill on a percentage basis, according to J. H. Long, representative.

The Rosenberg oil well on Seventeenth street, on a lease secured from the Interstate Oil company, continues to pump at the rate of 345 barrels a day, according to reports.

Jesse M. Nelson, drilling on the Costa Mesa terrace where he has a five-acre lease, is now down about 245 feet, according to reports. Nelson is said to have struck a similar formation at 190 feet that was encountered in the Rosenberg well at 100 feet. Predictions are general that a better grade of oil will be encountered at the greater depth.

M'MILLAN POLAR PLANES IN FLIGHT

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Three planes of the MacMillan-Navy expedition took off from the navy yard here today, en route to Boston. They left one minute apart at 1:24, 1:25 and 1:26 p. m., daylight time.

The planes are capable of landing at will on land or water, and will be used by Donald MacMillan to explore the polar regions and search for the Amundsen party.

The planes will be dismantled at Boston and packed aboard MacMillan's base ships, the Peary and Bowdoin. The ships will voyage to Etah, Greenland, base of the expedition. From this point the intrepid explorer will conduct his aerial explorations and hunt for Amundsen.

COMMON SENSE NEEDED IN RELIGION, WILBUR TELLS GRADUATES OF UNIVERSITY

(By United Press)

DURHAM, N. C., June 10.—"We need common sense in religion," Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur told the graduating class of Duke university here today, at its commencement exercises in an address in which he held that religion and science are harmonious.

"There are at least two divine books—the Holy Bible, on whose pages are inscribed the doings and sayings of holy men, and the book of nature," Wilbur said, discussing evolution.

"A part of this historical story is plainly written upon the geological strata which circumscribe the world."

"Common sense suggests that these two records be considered together, and that to reject and utterly ignore either is equally foolish."

Wilbur criticized scientists, especially physicians who deal with the body "solely from the standpoint of mechanics."

"Life to him forever will be an unsolved problem. He is foolish," Wilbur said.

It is wisdom, Wilbur declared, to accept the processes of creation and the existence of a Creator together.

War he characterized as a violation of common sense. In a passage that may have been aimed at the Tennessee evolution law, Wilbur said:

"It is as impossible to check the flow of legislation and judicial decisions as it is to restore life to its condition 100 years or 500 years ago. If legislators refuse to act, men must somehow work out rules of action for their guidance under new conditions and these rules will ultimately acquire the force of law. It was thus that the common law of England was developed."

"The world is suffering from crippled minds. It needs clean thinking. It will not long tolerate brains pickled in alcohol or dulled by narcotics or decaying by paresis because of youthful wild oats."

Yunnanese In Appeal For Alien Fleet to Intervene And Check Civil Warfare

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The Canton-American hospital at Canton has been struck by shells in the fighting between Yunnanese and Cantonese troops, Consul General Douglas Jenkins reported to the state department today.

Jenkins has protested against the firing on foreigners, although no one was hurt.

American women and children have moved from the danger zone on Jenkins' advice. He has warned all foreigners to avoid the fighting area.

AMERICAN COLLEGE STAFF IN FLIGHT

HONGKONG, June 10.—The American staff of the Christian college at Canton was being taken today to places of safety by an American gunboat, while Chinese students massed around the college, demanding that the troops depart.

BATTLE NOW IS RAGING IN EARNEST

LONDON, June 10.—Fighting between the Cantonese and Yunnanese forces for domination of Canton is now on in earnest, said Hongkong advices today. There have been 200 casualties thus far, the dispatches said.

The Yunnanese, hitherto confident of victory, were reported to have appealed to foreign consuls to send a fleet to intervene in the fighting and end it.

In Honan, opposite Canton, the spirit among the foreign colony is somewhat quieted, according to the messages, since American marines have been landed for protection of the foreigners and of the Christian college on the island. Shanghai was reported quiet.

FOREIGN SHIPPING TIED UP BY STRIKE

SHANGHAI, June 10.—Coastal and river traffic has ceased here as far as the British and Japanese are concerned.

Their boats are tied up, unable to turn a wheel because of the seamen's union order to seamen not to work on the British and Japanese lines.

As a result of the tie-up—only a few Chinese craft are operating—a warning has been radioed to sea to their boats to shun Shanghai.

Meantime, the trial of rioting students continues. Two American missionaries, differing from previous witnesses, declared that in their opinion the police shooting between the students and strikers had not been justified.

The secretaries of the Peking legations have arrived to start their investigations of the recent rioting.

GODFREY, WILLS TO BOX IN L. A. RING

LOS ANGELES, June 10.—Harry Wills and George Godfrey, negro heavyweights, were signed late today for a 10-round boxing match here the first week in August.

James Dougherty, Godfrey's manager, and Paddy Mullin, who handled Wills, agreed their signatures to a contract for the bout after a three-hour conference with Dick Donald, local promoter.

Mullin said he would leave at once for New York and bring Wills to California immediately after the Charlie Weinert-Wills fight New York.

Terms of the match were not revealed.

THEATER PARTY IS GIVEN FOR S. A. KIWANIS

Santa Ana Kiwanians and Kiwanettes today were recalling with pleasure features of the program of entertainment offered in Walker's theater, last night, when the club men and their wives were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Walker, the latter being a member of the club.

The guests started arriving at the theater at 8:30 o'clock and witnessed the regular bill in the playhouse. At the conclusion of the program, a special committee of the club took charge of the playhouse and presented three local artists in a special program.

The special features were vocal selections by Leon Echols and Mrs. Sally Lee Scales, both popular Santa Ana vocalists. Their numbers were enthusiastically received. Echols singing two selections and Mrs. Scales, three. Miss Betty Zirinsky, of Community Players, presented an Italian reading, "Tony Mardini Begs Petit Larceny," interpreting in a splendid manner the pleadings of an Italian boy for medicine for his sick mother. Miss Zirinsky was costumed as a ragged Italian boy of the streets. Miss Mabel Krause accompanied the singers.

The theater stage was cleared and a large group of the guests remained until after midnight to dance to music broadcast by the Biltmore orchestra, over KNX, Hollywood, and by an orchestra broadcasting over KGO, Oakland.

Cotton Mather, chairman of the committee in charge, directed the program, and during the evening announced that a party would be given in Orange country park on the evening of Thursday, June 25, when a short program, dinner and dancing will be the features. Other members of the committee are Nat H. Neff and A. H. T. Taylor.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR FLAG RAISING

Plans were under way today for formal flag raising exercises at the Santa Ana Country club at 4 p. m., Sunday, it was announced today by Guy Gilbert, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Emphasizing the point that the general public is invited to attend the exercises, Gilbert said the staff would be installed tomorrow. It is an 85-foot steel mast, weighing several tons, and will be imbedded in 10 feet of concrete. A derrick truck belonging to the Southern California Edison company, and operating through the division at Huntington Beach, will be employed in lifting the tall piece of steel into position.

F. S. Burgess, of South Pasadena, a member of the club, has donated a 7 by 14 foot silk flag to fly from the top of the mast. Joe Burke, former U. S. district attorney in Los Angeles, will deliver the principal address. Delegations from the American Legion, Boy Scouts and other local organizations will be present.

Flivver Beats Ambulances to Accident Scene

A crash between the light truck driven by Samuel Newton, of Corona, and a car driven by A. C. McCoy, service station man, of Fullerton, at the intersection of Spadra road and Orangethorpe avenue, today, was the underlying cause for a thrilling race between the two leading ambulance drivers of Fullerton, with the result that Newton, the man injured in the collision, was taken to the office of a Fullerton physician in a dilapidated flivver, according to a report on file today at headquarters of the Fullerton police.

The truck driven by Newton turned over, but empty chicken crates, with which his vehicle was loaded, held the weight from his body and probably saved his life, according to the report. Newton suffered a broken nose and other facial injuries, in addition to a severe shaking up.

The ambulance drivers did not get the name of the flivver driver, it was said. No explanation was made in the report as to how he got there first.

Cat At Top of Pole Won't Come Down

A cat may be small, but that doesn't prevent it from keeping an entire neighborhood awake, according to a report filed with the city police department today by persons living near Edison school, at Orange street and St. Gertrude place.

The cat in question is located at the top of a telephone pole and positively refuses to come down.

The feline howls morning and night and unless something is done, there are going to be some vacant houses in the neighborhood, according to the report.

Bus Crashes Into Concrete Pillar

A southbound stage of the Pickwick company, crashed into a concrete pillar just south of the Santiago creek bridge at 8 a. m., today, to avoid striking a heavy truck which had turned across the street. The front end of the stage was smashed in but on one was seriously injured.

The truck was driven by L. D. Tilt, 2268 Grand avenue, Ontario. Tilt declares that he signaled his intention to cross the street but the operator of the stage, W. D. Elerrande, says that the turn was made without signal having been given.

Court Notes

Bernhard Leaves $2650
Otto L. Bernhard, who lost his life in the rescue of three Fullerton youths from drowning in Newport harbor May 21, left an estate valued at $2650, according to his widow's petition for letters of administration, on file today in superior court.

The estate consists of a house and lot, and a small car, at Newport Beach. Marie Bernhard, the widow, together with the father, two brothers and two sisters of Bernhard, are named as legal heirs. One of the sisters is Mrs. Anna B. Jones, of 1924 West Myrtle street, Santa Ana. Bernhard was drowned when his boat, which he rowed to the rescue of the three youths, after their canoe had upset, also was capsized. The others came through safely.

Letters Are Asked
Letters of administration over the estate left by the late Retta M. Pickering, of La Habra, who died April 24, were sought today by her husband, Mackey J. Pickering. The estate, consisting of real property and stocks, is valued at $15,550. The petitioner and a sister of Pickering, Adda May, of Alhambra, are legal heirs.

Disertion Is Alleged
Hrs. Orela M. Humphrey, who claims that Byron Humphrey Jr. deserted her before they had been married three months, today asked divorce in a complaint on file in superior court. Attorneys Bishop and Wellington represent her. The couple married in Santa Ana, Janu. 18, 1924, and the desertion took place April 1, it is alleged.

Wants Payment on Notes
A suit brought by Fred A. Dyckman, of Anaheim, to get judgment against Maude L. Luce and C. D. Luce for $2300 on two notes, was being tried today before Superior Judge Z. B. West.

Dyckman purchased the notes from the Morris Realty company, which got the notes from the defendants in payment of a real estate commission, connected with the sale of the Luce $50,000 orange grove, to Mr. and Mrs. George E. Meade.

In defense to the complaint, the defendants claim that there was no consideration given for the notes; also that the suit is barred by reason of the fact that the Morris Realty company is a fictitious partnership name, and that no certificate of such fictitious name has been filed with the county clerk.

The real estate deal, for which the notes were given as commission, was never completed, they claim, because the Meades failed to make a $7000 payment. The real estate agents, they allege, had agreed to cancel the notes if the payment was not made.

Attorneys Ames and McFadden appear for the plaintiff, William P. Webb Jr. is counsel for the defendants.

Speeders Haled Into Court Here

Speeding within the city limits of Santa Ana cost Benjamin Kraemer Jr., Placentia, and John C. Mitchell, Los Angeles, $20 each in Recorder John F. Talbot's court yesterday afternoon. Both paid their fines. Three local residents, Mrs. L. F. Moulton, Leo Hartfield and Robert Elliott, each paid $2 for parking overtime.

Helium Will Be Removed from Giant Dirigible

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The dirigible Los Angeles, the engines of which were disabled in her attempt to fly from Lakehurst to Minnesota, Sunday, will be emptied of helium and the gas will be put into the dirigible Shenandoah, which will be sent on the same trip westward, either just prior to or just after its trip to Portland, Me., on July 4, Secretary Wilbur announced.

The "engine trouble" of the Los Angeles necessitates that the five motors be taken down and overhauled at the naval aircraft factory at Philadelphia, Wilbur said. Transfer and purification of the helium will take about two weeks. The Shenandoah's trip to Portland is to attend the governors' convention there.

The WELL-DRESSED MAN
By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

THE FLY-FRONT CHESTERFIELD

Years ago, every well-dressed man possessed his Chesterfield top coat, named after Philip Dormer Stanhope, fourth Earl of Chesterfield and author, statesman and dandy of his day. Indeed, Lord Chesterfield's chief claim to fame rests rather upon the style he invented in overgarments than upon his literary style, polished though it was. That the Chesterfield coat fell into disuse during the last fifteen years or so was due to the introduction and popularization of loose-fitting garments of the Raglan, sporting and knockabout types. Men found these more comfortable to wear with soft hats, soft collars, soft shirts and broad shoes. The eclipse of the derby hat also affected the vogue of the Chesterfield overcoat. So, too, did the widespread preference for tan shoes and, indeed, the general tendency toward a free-and-easy mode of dress.

However, older men have always clung to the Chesterfield for the very reason that the younger generation had dropped it—because it has a slight air of ceremony about it and because no other coat is correct to year upon certain occasions. The Chesterfield is inching back into greater favor in keeping with the preference of the day for coats that trace the figure. Moreover, instead of owning but a single top coat many men perceive the advantage of having several of different sorts, and one of these should be the Chesterfield.

The Chesterfield may be fly-front or button-through, but the true-to-type coat of this character is fly-front and slightly figure-fitting, as sketched here. There are three buttons, a center vent and flap pockets. The length is about 43 inches. The garment is half or full silk-lined. Being a town coat, not a country or knockabout coat, the correct hat to accompany the Chesterfield is the derby, not the soft felt hat.

Aside from its appropriateness to daytime use, the Chesterfield is an admirable coat to wear over evening clothes. Indeed, it is the only proper garment for that purpose. Loose-fitting coats do not belong with evening dress, be it formal or semi-formal. As the general lines of the Chesterfield do not change from year to year, one may acquire this coat with the certainty of enjoying many seasons' wear, especially if one alternates wearing this style with others.

BOY RUN DOWN BY MOTORIST; MAN IN JAIL

Willie Thatcher, 14, of 1809 West Eighth street, Santa Ana, is in the hospital with a crushed chest, bruises about his face and arms, and H. Schmidt, 3848 Michigan street, Los Angeles, is being held in the county jail pending the outcome of the boy's injuries, as the result of an accident at Fourth and Van Ness streets late yesterday afternoon, when Thatcher, who was riding a bicycle, was struck by Schmidt's car.

According to witnesses, Schmidt, who was driving east on Fourth street, cut the corner at Van Ness street and in doing so ran down young Thatcher, who was going west on Fourth street. Schmidt declares that he was forced to cut the corner by another car driving north on Van Ness street at a high rate of speed.

Dr. H. G. Huffman, who attended the injured boy, says that it will be at least another day before it will be possible to determine whether the lad has internal injuries. His condition was improved this morning and it is probable that the boy will recover, he said.

STRESSES NEED OF PART-TIME SCHOOL DOCTOR

Employment of a part-time physician, an assistant school nurse and a nutritional worker for the Santa Ana city school district, were among the recommendations submitted yesterday to the board of education by Dr. V. G. Presson, county health officer.

Stressing the need of giving more attention to the well-being of school children, Dr. Presson declared that there could be no satisfactory progress in educational activities unless the children were in fit condition.

Praising the work that is being done by Miss Margaret Kuehle, city school nurse, he urged that she be given an assistant. Explaining the need for an additional worker, he said that this year the county health office had assigned one of its nurses to assist Miss Kuehle, an arrangement which could not be continued during the next school year.

Dr. Presson also recommended the employment of a part-time

M'DERMOTT IS NEW HEAD OF STUDENT BODY

In elections yesterday, at the Santa Ana high school, Allen McDermott won the student body presidency, according to returns announced today. He was opposed by George Decker.

The new president will take office when high school opens in the fall. Inaugural ceremonies for the student officers will be held tomorrow at the regular assembly of the student body.

Elect Full Cabinet
A complete cabinet was elected. The count gave Robert McKean the vice presidency, and Miss Evelyn Yount, the secretaryship. Commissioners elected were Warren Hamilton, athletics; Willard White, finance; David Roberts, forensics; and Fred Sherman, publications. Student self-government committees were filled. On the girls' committee are Miss Mary Jane Owens and Miss Lillian Odisho. Members of the boys' group are Howard Paul and Wendell Jordan.

Junior College Elected
John McCoy won the presidency of the Santa Ana junior college associated student body in balloting at the college yesterday.

Others elected to office were George Bromell, vice president; Louane Leech, secretary; and Henry Powell, treasurer. The new student officers will be inaugurated at assembly tomorrow when the power will be turned over to the incoming executive board.

The new president advances from the vice presidency to the high student office. In the campaign he was opposed by Stewart Rither. The final results gave McCoy 58 votes to 38 for Rither.

A meeting of the new board will be called to appoint activities commissioners before school closes. It was announced by J. Russell Bruff, student advisor. The appointments will be made next week, it is believed.

RUSSIAN JEWELS SOLD?
LONDON, June 9.—Some of the Russian crown jewels recently were sold on the streets of London, according to testimony of Joseph Betts, recently on trial for burglary.

physician, who, in the course of his employment, would examine every child in the city schools at regular intervals, and attend special cases that would come up from time to time. He also thought that it would be a good thing for the city board to establish a dental clinic for school children.

In presenting his recommendations, the county health officer told the school trustees that he appreciated the fact that the employment of additional workers would entail considerable expense. He called attention to the fact, however, that it takes more money to operate schools where a number of children, mentally or physically deficient, retard other children.

With the cost of education for each individual pupil per school year running into a considerable amount, so-called "repeaters"—children who have failed to make the grades—come rather high to the taxpayers and mean double expense to the school district, the doctor remarked.

In closing, Dr. Presson touched on the heating system in the high school, suggesting that steps be taken that will insure an even temperature in all rooms of the building.

Woman's Secret of Beauty

Beauty lies in the care a woman bestows upon herself and in keeping at bay those dread ailments peculiar to her sex, which drag her down and leave telltale traces upon her countenance. Sparkling eyes, the elastic step and a clear complexion never accompany organic troubles. Distressed expressions, a sallow complexion, dark circles under the eyes, lassitude, headaches and mental depression are the telltale symptoms of women's ailments. Women so troubled should not lose a day in taking Lydia E. Social Wolves Wherever young folks congregate, in schools, at business, in places of amusement, social wolves hunt, singly or in packs. Read the story of Helen Saunders, beautiful high school girl; it is true, all except the names which of necessity had to be disguised. What happened to her should be a warning to young and old alike.

UNTIL she reached the age of seventeen, Helen never gave her parents a moment's worry. When she went out in the evening, they knew where she was and who she was with.

Then Zan Thompson, a senior in high school, began paying her attentions. He flattered her girlish vanity. He made himself as fascinating to her as he could.

Soon she was a different girl. If questioned she became sullen and rebellious. Her face took on a furtive, secretive look as though she were hiding something. Pleading and remonstrance had no effect. Disregarding her mother's warning she continued to meet Zan Thompson at every opportunity.

One fateful night the blow fell. Helen failed to return. All night her parents waited in despair not knowing where she was.

Then as dawn was breaking they heard the street door open quietly and a soft step in the hall.

The story of Helen Saunders, the manner in which she fell under the influence of Zan Thompson and the devastating result of that association is told in True Story Magazine for July under the title "Saving Helen."

The following letter from Helen's mother which accompanied the manuscript of "Saving Helen" gives you some idea of the depths of sincerity and earnestness in the hearts of the men and women who bare their souls for the benefit of mankind in True Story Magazine.

Editor of True Story Magazine—"Enclosed you will find a story true in all incidents, changed only in names and location, and the fact that instead of the one girl I have two other children. I have opened my heart to write this, with a hope that it may halt some other girl who finds herself drawn away from the home circle by the same influences met at school or in social life. Perhaps the result of this story may draw back another who has just placed her feet on the downward path. In any event it goes from me to your office with the great desire back of it to help weak humanity in some way. You may feel that my sympathy has not been sufficiently warm for the erring boy. I feel bitterly sorry for him, and was able to help him in a way that came unexpectedly, but I feel that his term in the Reformatory will be his salvation. Something had to be done to soften the shell of his mature criminal indifference to law and decency. If he can be helped then I am ready to help him, but he can never again touch my child. Trusting you may find the story acceptable, I remain,"

Sincerely,

The Crusade of Truth

When Bernarr Macfadden began publishing True Story Magazine, it marked the birth of a crusade against evil, sin and vice such as the world had never known.

True Story has as its main purpose to warn against the fatal but often natural human errors that wreck the bodies, blast the souls, and destroy the lives of young and old everywhere.

And time has proven beyond the shadow of a doubt that its material method is successful and its ideal of human service right.

Today, after only six years of publication, its two million monthly copies are read by approximately six million clear-thinking, far-seeing, courageous men and women.

In all that time, not one word has been printed in its pages that any clean, healthy, unprejudiced mind could take exception to.

Never in True Story Magazine is sin or shame or wrong of any kind painted in any but its true colors, never is it glorified or made to seem anything but what it really is—sin, or shame or wrong—and as such to be shunned and avoided.

"Suddenly I heard her coming. It was a tiny sound. I peered through the gloom, and there in the grey of early dawn stood my child, her face white—her eyes staring from their sockets."

To make sure that True Story accomplishes the greatest possible amount of good, for more than a year every story appearing between its covers has been subjected to the exacting scrutiny of a supervising Ministerial Board composed of clergymen in active charge of New York Parishes including Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian, Catholic and Hebrew creeds. No story that does not teach a powerful moral lesson can possibly escape their vigilance and find a place in True Story Magazine.

So far as we are aware, no other nationally circulated magazine has ever gone to such an extreme in guarding the moral quality of its contents.

VERY DEPRESSED

North Carolina Lady Says She Was in a Run-Down Condition Before Taking Cardui

Spindale, N. C.—Mrs. H. S. Miller, of this town, says: "Five years ago I was very much run-down in health. I got so I was scarcely able to go. The worst thing I suffered with was an awful shortness of breath. I would give out with the least exertion. At times I would have to go to bed."

"I read of Cardui. . . . My husband got me a bottle and encouraged me to take it. I was almost a skeleton, I was so thin. I was run-down and my general health was very poor. This was very depressing and I was in low spirits. My husband had to help me around. He did all he could for me and had me keep up Cardui."

"I continued taking the medicine for several months and it was wonderful the improvement I made. I gained over twenty pounds in weight, and I felt so much better besides. This gain was permanent, too. I have never lost it and my general health has been much better since I took Cardui. As a tonic for women it has no equal. I am glad to recommend it to run-down women and mothers for it helped me wonderfully."

Cardui is a mild, harmless, purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, in successful use for almost fifty years in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

Pan-Hellenic Members Choose Miss Walker As President

Recognizing the splendid efficiency shown by Miss Helen Walker in directing the Pan-Hellenic activities through the organization year, the Greek letter college women composing the society, paid her the compliment of returning her to the office for a second year at the Monday night business and social meeting held at Illinois cottage, Laguna Beach.

The earlier hours of the evening were purely social in nature and interest of the members was centered in the picnic menu to which each had contributed a surprise dish. Following supper, the business meeting opened with a discussion of the recently organized Orange county branch of University Women's association. Mrs. Deimling read the constitution adopted at the organization meeting held a week or more ago at Ebelle clubhouse.

Election returns which gave the presidency of the Pan-Hellenic society to Miss Walker made Miss Elaine Wharton, vice president; Miss Marjorie Ellis, recording secretary; Mrs. Wallace Sterling, corresponding secretary and Miss Violet Wieseman, treasurer.

Following the business session the members devoted the remainder of the evening to bridge. One out-of-town guest was entertained, Miss Alice De Witt of Medicine Lodge, Kans., a house-guest of Mrs. Glenn Lindley and a Kansas Agricultural college graduate.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Alumni C. E.
Taking the form of a pot-luck supper, the semi-annual "get-together" of the Alumni Christian Endeavor association of the First Baptist church was held in the church parlors early in the week. After singing the Doxology, this group of friends who for so many years have been associated in efforts for upbuilding the church in the community and sending the gospel to the "uttermost parts of the earth," joined in social chat and the enjoyment of an appetizing picnic supper.

At the conclusion of the meal, A. M. Robinson, association president, conducted a business session when committee reports were given. Among these was the directing of aid to the new C. E. society in the Community church at San Juan Capistrano, plans for the usual Christmas gift to Miss Viola Hill, a council member now in the mission field in China and the gift of home-made candy to the inmates of the state's penal institutions at Christmas, together with the Gospel of St. John, an enterprise in which all C. E. societies of the state join.

Miss Edith Custer was asked to speak of the coming state convention in San Diego. She spoke especially of the attractive auto camp accommodations and some of the conference plans.

The speaker of the evening was Mabel Custer, home from 4½ years teaching in China. During the day she taught missionaries' children and in the evening Chinese students and her talk was most entertaining and instructive. Miss Custer impressed all with her balanced conclusions of China's condition today and the future outcome as she envisioned it.

The profitable evening closed with hymn singing and prayer.

First M. E. Boreans.
The Borean class of the First Methodist Episcopal Sunday school will hold a business and social meeting in the church parlors, Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. A pot-luck supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Presbyterian Aid.
The last regular meeting of the northwest section of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church was held late last week at the home of Mrs. C. F. Smith, 1717 North Broadway.

The afternoon was spent in sewing on the curtains for the new Y. W. C. A. recreation room soon to be opened in the old Gas office. At the close of the afternoon the quintet of ladies on the entertaining committee provided a short program of music. Miss Ruth Gardner played two violin solos with her mother as accompanist. Miss Rose Marie Smith, daughter of the home, gave two delightful piano solos. Miss Peggy Warrington followed with two violin numbers with Rose Marie Smith at the piano. At the urgent request of the ladies Mrs. Harold Pollock gave one of his delightful compositions on the piano.

Annual Park Party of Rankin Store Force Is Great Success

It was with renewed energy and enthusiasm that employees of the Rankin Drygoods company entered upon their duties today following their whole-souled enjoyment of the annual park party presented last night at Orange county park and for which the store closed at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The last automobile, filled with merry-makers, left the store at 4 o'clock. Informal costumes were in evidence and many of the pretty girls were in smart knickers and woolen hose. Upon arrival at the park they were all in readiness for the program of lively games and contests arranged by the sports committee, Miss Ada Larson, Mrs. Nellie Fisher and Wilber Conrad. A baseball game between the men and the girls provided fun for everyone although there was no decision reached regarding the score except to "kill the umpire." Sack and bottle races were also featured and all the sports closely associated with picnics.

The refreshment and decoration committees had preceded the main crowd to the park and had everything in readiness to greet the late arrivals. Tables were arranged with sweet peas and a variety of lovely flowers combined with ferns while at each place was a quaint favor and a pretty bouillabaisse. Supper was served cafeteria style and offered such palate-tickling delicacies as southern baked ham, sweet potatoes, rolls, cabbage salad, olives, pickled beets, fresh strawberry sundae with wafers and coffee. The luscious hams were expertly carved by two of the hostesses, P. Rankin and Charles Chamberlain whose rouged cheeks, goatees and waxed mustaches were very French indeed.

Mrs. W. E. Myers as chairman of the supper committee, was aided by the Misses Pearl Smalley, Mabel Cole, Esther Coffman, Alma Sweet, Mrs. Pearl Kightlinger, John Lutz, Herbert P. Rankin and Charles Chamberlain. Taking charge of the tables after supper were Edith Davidson, Mrs. Alice Conner, Mrs. Estelle Ewing, Mrs. H. M. Secrest, Mrs. Marie Fowler and John Fotheringham.

Decorations were planned by Miss Blanche Horton and Miss Helen Hull, while Mrs. M. L. Bridgman had charge of transportation problems. After supper a program of stunts directed by Mrs. Switzer offered entertainment. One enjoyable feature was a Rankin song by Mrs. Amel McBroom. Miss Bess McClain and Miss Ethel Coffman with a ukelele accompaniment played by Miss Mary Coffman. Community singing in which the store force has been splendidly trained during the past year, attracted all the picnickers in the park, many of whom remained for further festivities which included a humorous talk by H. P. Rankin in which various members of the party were cleverly "taken off."

The remainder of the memorable evening was devoted to dancing in company with scores of other merry parties at the park.

at the close of the program.

Miss Nancy Elder spoke on the work being done among the young girls of the church and the purpose of the recreation room, for which the ladies were sewing. Refreshments of delicious pineapple ice and wafers were served at the close of the afternoon. The members present numbered about 50 and the guests were the official board of the Aid society together with Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Roberts and Mr. Roberts' mother.

Friendly Courtesy Is Extended June Bride By Hostess Trio

Complimenting Miss Alice Strong, one of June's brides-elect, was a most enjoyable party given last night by Miss Mildred Fox, Miss Rhea McDow and Miss Lenabelle Hughes at the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams, 1110 Spurgeon street, for which the store closed at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The hostess trio asked the members of the Junior Philathea class of the First Baptist church to join in the merry evening and enjoy the hospitality of their teacher's home, for Mrs. Williams directs the activities of the Junior Philathea. Larkspur, Shasta and yellow daisies were used in carrying out the decorative scheme of blue and gold and formed an effective background for the group of pretty maids comprising the class membership.

An entertaining contest, the wedding of the flowers, was introduced and was followed by the amusing feature of a wedding for which Miss Mildred Marchant provided appropriate music. Costumes were amazing and created a storm of laughter as member after member of the wedding party made her entry. Miss Mildred Fox and Miss Laura Joiner offered an amusing contrast as bride and groom. The former attended by Miss Ruth Pietsch and Mrs. Oral Richards as bridesmaids, Miss Verna Threlkeld served as best man; Miss Edna Ingham read the marriage ceremony; Miss Lenabelle Hughes as father, gave the bride away in every sense of the word; Miss Rhea McDow was ring-bearer and Mrs. Williams made a cunning flower girl.

After the merriment had somewhat subsided, Miss Strong was called to the door where Ruthford Williams, young son of the home, delivered a note bidding her go upstairs in search of treasure. "Upstairs in search of treasure," the search led and finally concealed beneath the flowing veil of a dainty doll-bird centering the dining-room table, were the final instructions to look beneath the table. There an ornate basket was found, containing an assortment of lovely gifts which her sister class-members had delighted in choosing for the bride-elect.

Miss Strong opened the packages one after another, and exhibited them proudly to her friends. Later all were asked to the dining room where the honoree's dreams of the future were suggested in refreshments of Paradise pudding, angel-food cake and ambrosial punch.

Those enjoying the evening were the hostess trio, the Misses Hughes, Fox, McDow with their chief aide, Mrs. Williams, the honor guests Miss Strong and the Misses Isabel Bennett, Irene Cravath, Mildred Holmes, Edna Ingham, Laura Joiner, Mildred Marchant, Ruth Pietsch, Dorothy Duggan, Verna Threlkeld, May Thurston, Alice Wilson, Mesdames Lula Bennett, Bea Echols, Cora Moore, Oral Richards, Nellie Garnett, Otto S. Russell, Margaret Hardin and Eugenia Ruthford.

Pretty Shower Yields Towel Assortment For Honoree

Towels large and small; hand-embroidered, lace-trimmed, flower-tinted; bath towels, hand towels, glass towels—in fact all known varieties of towels were added to the linen chest treasures of Miss Allene Shipp by a group of friends assembled as guests of Miss Wilma Silver Monday night.

The Silver home at First and Myrtle streets, Tustin, was like a pink rose garden in honor of the occasion and the young hostess had all other appointments in harmony with the pink flowers. Tables were arranged for bridge and a frilly apron and dainty vanity selected as prizes, were presented by Miss Iris Head, scoring high and Miss Jimmie Flagg, low. Following the card session, tables were spread with lovely linens and centered with pink sweet peas and baby's breath for the serving of a gelatin salad (repeating the general color scheme) with heart-shaped sandwiches; March snow, angel-food cake, confections and coffee.

While the guests remained at the table for a friendly chat, Miss Silver produced a gay ribbon-banded box and presented it to Miss Shipp. All gathered close, the lovely little honoree opened and examined the array of beautiful towels which the box contained.

Enjoying the hospitality of Miss Silver and the opportunity to compliment Miss Shipp were the Misses Miriam Baird, Anna Grace McElree, Kathleen Trago, Jimmie Holmes, Dorothy Holmes, Emily Holmes, Maria Diehl, Jeanne Wilson, Alice Mateer, Iris Head, Isabel Wylie, Gwendolyn Tubbs, Katherine Buxton, Mrs. Riley Huber, Mrs. Jack Remsburg, Mrs. Fred Hobbs and Mrs. Edward Ward.

Will Entertain At Ebelle Clubhouse

Friends who regretted the departure of the Clyde Whiteheads from Santa Ana to make their home in San Bernardino, are happy to know that Mrs. Whitney still keeps up her social interest in this city where she and her mother, Mrs. Frederick W. Fuller are entertaining at a smart bridge on the afternoon of Friday, June 19.

Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. Whitney are centering the function at the Ebelle clubhouse where so many hostesses are finding a delightful spot in which to entertain and one that combines spaciousness and charm.

Santa Ana Guests Play Bridge In Long Beach

One of the week-end's pleasant events in a neighboring city, was the bridge party given by Miss Irene Stewart and Mrs. Lee Woodard of Long Beach and attended by quite a group of Santa Ana friends.

The home of Mrs. Woodard at 2373 Atlantic avenue, was the scene of the festive affair and a varied assortment of garden flowers added charm to the pretty rooms. Three tables were arranged for bridge and following the friendly contest, attractive gifts were presented. Miss Virginia Craig of this city, scoring high, and Mrs. Clyde Otto of Corona, who was consoled.

Rose baskets were used to center the card tables after they were arranged for the serving of refreshments. Gathered around them were the hostesses, Mrs. Woodard and Miss Stewart, and their guests, Miss Margaret Schmidt, Miss Jeannette Spheres and Miss Beulah Schmidt of Long Beach; Mrs. Clyde Otto of Corona, and Mrs. Jack Willey, the Misses Ada A. Tulene, Virginia Craig, Agnes Shambaugh, Gladys Thomas and Gertrude Heesch of this city.

Cards Now Out For Hays-Shipp Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Eugene Shipp have issued invitations to the wedding of their daughter, Miss Edna Allene Shipp, to Rolla Ray Hays Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Hays, 2103 North Broadway.

The ceremony will be a large church affair for which the First Baptist church will offer an appropriate setting. It will be Thursday evening, June 25 at 8 o'clock.

Miss Shipp is being one of the month's most feted brides, a series of delightful affairs having been given her, with others equally smart to come between now and the nuptial date.

Last week she introduced several of her pupils in an interesting program at the Women's clubhouse at Costa Mesa.

THESE, or one of the 138 other awards ranging in value from $100.00 down, may be yours by enlisting at once in this Contest, the provisions making it possible for every man, woman and child to have an equal opportunity for success.

A "SELLING GAME" with all the unpleasant features usually associated with just "Selling," removed.

"AN INDOOR SPORT" promising to every contestant many thrills and worth-while remuneration. Everyone will be doing it. Start now. The Contest opens June 10th, 1925, and closes August 15th, 1925, midnight.

WHAT COULD BE EASIER?

Simply go to any Independent Service Station dispensing PROPELLO or BLUE DIAMOND gasoline and ask for a supply of "Sales Contest Order Books," (they are free), or fill in and mail coupon No. 1 at bottom of page, and they will be forwarded to you.

Tear out the pink inserted page of each of the Purchase Order Books, write thereon your name and address plainly, and leave these slips with the Service Station operator from whom you get your Order Books. This is absolutely essential. Failure to do so may mean that you will not be credited with all your sales. We must have the numbers of every book you use. This detail is not necessary if books are mailed to you by the company. As many books as you may require will be furnished.

Write your name on the second line (salesman) of every order blank in all the Purchase Order Books you receive.

Urge your friends, relatives and acquaintances to buy PROPELLO and BLUE DIAMOND GASOLINE. Give one of the Order Books to all those who pledge themselves to buy these products. Instruct them to sign or initial one of the blanks and hand it with Purchase Price to any Propello or Blue Diamond dealer each time they find it necessary to replenish their supply of gasoline.

Inform them of the location of the Propello or Blue Diamond dealer that will be most convenient for them, and

YOUR WORK IS DONE

No Money to Collect—Nothing Complicated—No Expense to You.

The purchase orders will be collected daily from our dealers. At the close of the Contest, midnight, August 15th, 1925, the sales slips of every contestant will be totaled and the first award will be given to the one having the greatest number of gallons to his or her credit. Second prize to the one credited with the second greatest number of gallons, etc., until the one hundred and forty-one awards have been made.

Every individual, regardless of whether or not he or she owns or drives a car, is eligible to enter this Contest, excepting Jameson Oil Company employees, their families, Service Station owners and operators and their employees, and excepting individuals, firms, corporations and organizations who purchase for their own requirements, or to resell, gasoline in wholesale quantities, or on contract.

Territory Covered—Wherever Propello and Blue Diamond Are Sold

Four years ago there were less than fifteen advertised brands of gasoline being sold in Southern California, all at identically the same retail and wholesale price. Today there are over 100 brands, and these products range in quality from the most unsatisfactory metal-destroying concoctions to the most efficient motor fuel possible to manufacture. The retail and wholesale prices vary with their respective merits, and in buying gasoline, as in buying any other merchandise, one receives just about what one pays for.

In asking your friends to use the Jameson Oil Company's PROPELLO and BLUE DIAMOND gasolines you are recommending products refined not merely to meet the requirements of the Los Angeles City test but superior to the demands of the ordinance. They are chemically pure, a fact of far greater importance than the "easy-starting, power and mileage" qualities of motor fuel. It is true these qualities are essential, and characteristic of our products, but gasoline absolutely satisfactory from a performance standpoint might, because of the impurities it contains, be far from desirable.

Gasoline of genuine merit must be of specifications insuring perfect combustion under all conditions and at the same time stand the "Doctor's Test," proving that it contains no sulphur or foreign matter. It must also stand the "corrosion" test. Everyone is familiar with the fact that sulphurous compounds and corrosion are very injurious to metal and so it is obvious that the use of impure gasolines will impair the efficiency of a motor and materially shorten its life. Such motor fuel is expensive no matter how little you pay for it.

Only the most modern equipment and painstaking care in refining produce PROPELLO and BLUE DIAMOND. We could manufacture a so-called

"Bootleg" brand, to market at a reduced price, as some of the long-established refiners are doing today, but we believe it would be taking an unfair advantage of the user. Furthermore, the motorist is rapidly learning that the best fuel is the most economical and the demand for low-priced products is growing less every day.

PROPELLO and BLUE DIAMOND are both "quality" products. The motorist, in using them, is assured maximum efficiency in performance as well as chemical purity. No gasoline marketed surpasses them in quality.

The checking and rechecking of all records maintained in connection with this Contest will be under the direct supervision of three disinterested persons whose unquestionable integrity will insure absolute fairness in awarding the prizes. These men are: Lester E. Mershon, Evening Herald; Allen Hawley, L. A. Examiner, and Judge Geo. S. Richardson, of Los Angeles.

In the event two or more persons tie for any one of the awards offered, each will be remunerated with duplicate prizes of exactly the same value regardless of the class in which the tie occurs. All contestants with the exception of those earning motor cars will be given orders on the Western Auto Supply Company and it shall be optional with them to select any merchandise sold by that Company, of the same value as the prize they earn.

This Contest opens June 10th, 1925, and closes midnight, August 15th, 1925. No purchase orders will be accepted by Propello or Blue Diamond dealers after the latter date.

Every car owner is a prospect. In requesting motorists to buy PROPELLO or BLUE DIAMOND gasoline you are not annoying them as might be the case were you asking them to purchase merchandise for which they have no particular need. They must have gasoline and buy almost every day. They will be more than willing to accommodate you. "Getting the business" of a few friends, relatives or acquaintances will pay you in the running—a little application will probably bring you handsome remuneration.

Every person participating will receive "Tips" now and then, by mail, that will be of material assistance. A complete list of our authorized dealers and any additional information you might desire will be cheerfully given at Service Stations displaying Propello or Blue Diamond signs, or phone or mail inquiries to

ELKS PLEASED BY VAUDEVILLE PERFORMANCE

The second of the high class entertainments promised by the officers was held in the clubhouse of the Santa Ana Elks last night, with artists furnished by the West Coast theaters providing the program.

Among those who appeared on the platform was Monroe Salisbury, noted motion picture and legitimate actor, who gave two monologues, "The House by the Side of the Road," and "Mike."

Last night's specialties were well received by the "Bills." The same high grade entertainment will be furnished at the next meeting, it was announced by Nat Farnum, West Coast manager, who is in charge of the programs.

Very little lodge business was transacted, the most of the evening being devoted to the program. Those who appeared were Marie Moore, songs; Harry Ferris, ventriloquist; Dora Lindsay, Scotch impersonations; Charters and Morris, comedy skit; Monroe Salisbury, monologues; Viola Tascott, accompanist.

Speaking of the entry of the West Coast theaters in Santa Ana, announced yesterday, Farnum declared that only established Orpheum acts will be billed here, and play-goers may rest assured that they will see only the best.

A new puncture-proof inner tube has been introduced in Chicago which has been punctured 600 times without the loss of any air. Motorists can increase their mileage over 12,000 miles by using this tube without removing it from the wheel. It costs no more than the ordinary tube. If interested write the Airlox Tube Co., Dept. 4603, H. St. Louis, Mo., for full information as they want these tubes introduced everywhere. Wonderful opportunity for agents. NEWSPAPER OF 1865, TELLING OF LINCOLN'S DEATH, PRIZED POSSESSION OF SANTA ANA

A prized possession of W. I. Shafter, 2518 West Fifth street, handed down as an heirloom, is an original copy of the New York Herald, of April 16, 1865, giving news of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln and his death.

Turning the fragile pages, yellow with age, one is impressed with the changes 60 years have made in journalism. The sheet, almost a pamphlet in size, is printed in the smallest of type, and the whole appalling tragedy, with lengthy accounts of the life and services of the president, of his successor, Andrew Johnson, the inauguration of the latter, a life sketch of the assassin, John Wilkes Booth, rumors of his capture, and the attempted murder of Secretary Seward and his son, all are compressed within the limits of four small pages, together with sermons, speeches, street scenes, and the detailed news of that momentous day.

Few headlines are used and these are small, but there is a marginal captioning of the contents.

The diction is of the style now found only in old books, but the editorials, presumably written by the editor, James Gordon Bennett, would pass muster in a newspaper of today, and they show the influence of his work on successive generations of journalism. Three-fourths of a column disposes of the advertisements, which average six lines each, and two of the articles, Hostetter's bitters and Gouraud's medicated soap, whose merits are briefly extolled, prove their present claim to longevity.

That times have changed is indicated by favorable and frequent mention of lottery tickets and Catawba wine, and in other columns, such gentlemanly accomplishments as fencing, sure shooting and "mastery of the bowie knife" are credited to the assassin. Two lines modestly announcing that the "tammany society" will elect officers the following evening leads one to believe that the famous tiger was then but a cub.

News from Mexico was "exciting," which seems natural and familiar. The internal disorder mentioned is of considerable importance in the world's history, being nothing less than the struggle of Benito Juarez, since called the "Abraham Lincoln of Mexico," to overthrow the French Emperor Maximilian and establish the present republic. Fear of the subjects of the "empire" that southern forces would cross the border and assist Juarez also is chronicled.

The faded relic conveys a subtle message across the years, a meaning perhaps but dimly realized at the moment, that Lincoln's death, uniting the nation in a common sorrow, was of mightier import than would have been his continued life and wise administration.

H. S. ALUMNI WILL BANQUET JUNE 20

The annual banquet and ball of the Santa Ana High School Alumni association, will be held at the Elbell clubhouse, at 6:30 p. m., June 20, it was announced today by Fred Forgy, president of the association.

Members of the association today were receiving notices of the event, and were eagerly looking forward to the date, in anticipation of a repetition of the pleasures and successes that have featured previous annual gatherings of the organization.

As tentatively arranged, the program will include presentation of a one-act play by Community players who are members of the association; vocal numbers by Mrs. J. R. Mayer, and xylophone selections by Miss Lizetta Phillips.

Officers will be selected prior to the dance, which is scheduled to start at 10 o'clock. Officers to be elected are president, secretary and members of the executive committee.

WIVES GUESTS OF ROTARIANS AT CLUB MEET

With their wives as guests, Santa Ana Rotarians yesterday enjoyed a musical program presented by the club's social and entertainment committee, of which Earl S. Morrow is chairman.

Solos by Miss Molly Mosher and Elmer Heidt and pianologues by Miss Madeline Mosse featured the program. Under Elmer Heidt's leadership, community singing also was made a feature of the gathering.

A number of "stunts" were introduced by the committee. A serious note was introduced by the Rev. William E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who was called upon to speak concerning the Presbyterian assembly held recently in Columbus, O. He pointed out the great task that lies before the churches of America. He said that the assembly was not given a square deal in news reports, as the great constructive work done by the assembly was hardly mentioned, while exaggerated prominence was given minor differences.

"The more I see of 'back east' weather," he said, "the stronger I am for California weather."

Milk, Bread Data Given In Report

SACRAMENTO, June 10.—Six quarts of milk and six loaves of bread are consumed every month by each person in California, according to Charles F. Hayden, chief of the weights and measures division of the state department of agriculture.

Figures compiled by Hayden show that approximately the same number of loaves of bread and quarts of milk are consumed yearly in the state.

Hayden estimates the activities of the weights and measures division save the people more than a million dollars a year in preventing short weights on these two commodities alone.

SENTENCE FOR ROBBER YOUTH IS SHORTENED

Jack Lee, youthful highwayman recently sentenced to San Quentin for robbery, was late yesterday sentenced a second time and is reported willing to take a third sentence.

His willingness, it was said, is due to the fact that his second sentence meant a possible reduction of four years in the term prescribed by his first sentence. Jack estimates that a third sentence might wipe out his prison term altogether.

An error in the proceedings, by which Lee was sentenced, April 30, to a term of not less than five years' imprisonment, was discovered yesterday by Court Clerk Mel Head, who was resentencing papers for Lee's commitment to San Quentin.

Bailiff Dan Adams, who was ready to start north with the prisoner, called Head on the telephone.

What Degree of Robbery? "Say," complained Adams, "You'd better fix these commitment papers to show the degree of robbery Lee was convicted for. They're pretty cranky up north about that, and these papers just say 'robbery.' What degree was it?"

Head couldn't remember, so he looked up the records. "What the—" he remarked. The jury verdict had merely found Lee guilty of robbery, without stating whether first or second degree. The set of verdict forms handed to the jury had not included such an item as that of degree. The court, failing to note the omission, and remembering that a gun had been used in the robbery by the gang, of which Lee was a member, sentenced the prisoner for first degree robbery. The penalty for first degree robbery is not less than five years.

Lee Is Resentenced When Head revealed the state of affairs yesterday, Lee was brought before Superior Judge Z. B. West, sitting in department 3 of the court, and was resentenced for second degree robbery, the minimum of the penalty being reduced from five years to one year.

Lee was one of a quartet, including "the flapper bandit," Virginia Lee Hymer, which was captured by the Anaheim police after a series of robberies in Los Angeles county and two in Orange county on the night of March 6.

The leader of the gang, W. E. Neuteboom, was sent to Folsom for a 20-year sentence. Another of the gang, Roy Lane, 16, went to lone. The girl was discharged from custody.

Lee was first sentenced on April 30. Then he was taken to Los Angeles, where he has been convicted of first degree robbery. Yesterday he was returned to Orange county, for commitment to San Quentin in connection with the conviction here.

Says Squirrels Causing Damage To Young Trees

SACRAMENTO, June 10.—Gray squirrels are doing great damage to the young redwood trees of Sonoma county, according to a letter received by State Forester M. B. Prass from Wade Sturgeon, of Sebastopol.

"In some places, these animals are doing more damage to the trees than forest fires," Sturgeon declared. He explains that the young trees are stripped of their bark by the squirrels, who eat the tender inner bark, causing the trees to die.

While discounting the statement that the animals are more destructive than fires, Pratt has taken the complaint under advisement and the horticultural commissioner of the county will be asked to conduct a thorough investigation of the report.

Gray squirrels are now protected by the state law.

Summer Schools To Be Conducted

Summer schools for children in the lower grades of the Santa Ana schools will be held this summer. Pupils in the first, second and third grades will have an opportunity to remove conditions and make their grades when Miss Welbank opens classes in the Washington school for six weeks, beginning June 22. Classes will be from 8:40 a. m. to 12 noon. A fee of $15 will be charged.

A summer school will be conducted by Misses Mary Coffman and Dorris Haag, of Jefferson school, for pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. The session will be held in Washington school, beginning June 22.

Another Pasadena Official Resigns

PASADENA, June 10.—George K. Hooper, assistant city manager of Pasadena, resigned 24 hours after the resignation of City Manager C. W. Kolner.

Hooper gave no reason for his retirement, but it is understood he and Kolner were not in sympathy with the policies of the newly-elected board of city directors.

The resignations were expected to start a renewal of the Klan political war in Pasadena, which dominated the recent city election. Four members of the present board of city directors were openly supported by leading members of the secret order.

Simultaneous with Hooper's resignation, five former city policemen, discharged a year ago by Police Chief Charles H. Kelley, applied today for "reinstatement without prejudice."

Police Chief Kelley intimated he would resign if the former officers, who supported the Klan members of the city board, were replaced on the force.

Girl Willed $1 To Get Biggest Share In Estate

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Charles B. Slocum made a will in 1917, cutting off Lois Vivienne Martin, granddaughter, with $1. Ruth Grant Bowen and Alice Victoria Bowen, other grand children, were to receive the bulk of his $60,000 estate. Slocum died here, May 14. Fate intervened and today the public administrator told the court here that had investments had reduced the Slocum fortune so that, after the $1 was paid to Lois Martin as a special bequest, there remained about 50 cents to share between the favored heirs.

ACTRESS' ANIMALS ARE GOING HUNGRY

SPOKANE, Wn., June 10.—Nell Shipman's menagerie is going hungry and forest rangers don't know what to do.

Four bears, 25 dogs, several marmosets, a wildcat, one deer, four coyotes, two wolves, an eagle and an owl make up the movie actress' circus, which she left on Priest lake, Idaho, to pay a freight bill.

The animals were attached by a boatman, when she broke her camp here several months ago and went to New York, but far from being an asset, the animals have proved to be a great problem.

F. T. Carroll, assistant supervisor of the Kanku National forest, reported their plight. The animals were fairly well taken care of until old "Dad" Duffie, a feeder, quit the camp, unable to provide either himself or the animals with food.

"We can't turn the animals loose, or they would chase out game and play havoc with campers," Carroll said. "Some zoo ought to take them."

Old Oregon Is On Final Voyage

SEATTLE, June 10.—The old battleship Oregon, whose spectacular dash from Puget sound to Santiago, during the Spanish-American war brought her the homage and plaudits of the nation, was given a farewell tribute here by the city of Seattle, when she was assisted up the sound by two tugs on her way "home" to Portland. At Portland, the old war vessel will be kept moored by the state as a relic. City officials, including Mayor Brown, and many Shriners on the way east from the Los Angeles convention, gathered to do her homage as she left on what is said to be her last voyage.

Renting a Home?

First of all, look to its Electrical Convenience

One thing affecting the comfort of any home you rent is the completeness of the electrical installation. Nowadays, no house is a home without convenient connections for electrical appliances, without correct lighting and without standard wiring devices.

In renting a house make sure of its electrical installation by asking if the wiring was done by a "Check" Seal contractor. The "Check" Seal identifies qualified electrical contractors who employ good workmanship and install standard wiring devices. Also when you need electrical appliances remember that the "Check" Seal identifies electrical retailers who sell quality electrical merchandise.

CITY'S WATER DEVELOPMENT TO BE DECIDED IN TWO WEEKS

Within Fortnight Outcome Of S. A. Municipal Bond Election Will Be Known

WILL MEET NEEDS OF 125,000 PEOPLE

Residents Are to Express Sentiments at Polls on Proposed Bond Issue

Two weeks from today residents of Santa Ana and the world will know definitely whether this city in the immediate future is to develop its supply of water for domestic consumption from wells along the east side of the Santa Ana river, just north of Chapman street bridge, or whether the city fathers will be forced to continue development from the present city property and distribute the liquid under steam pressure.

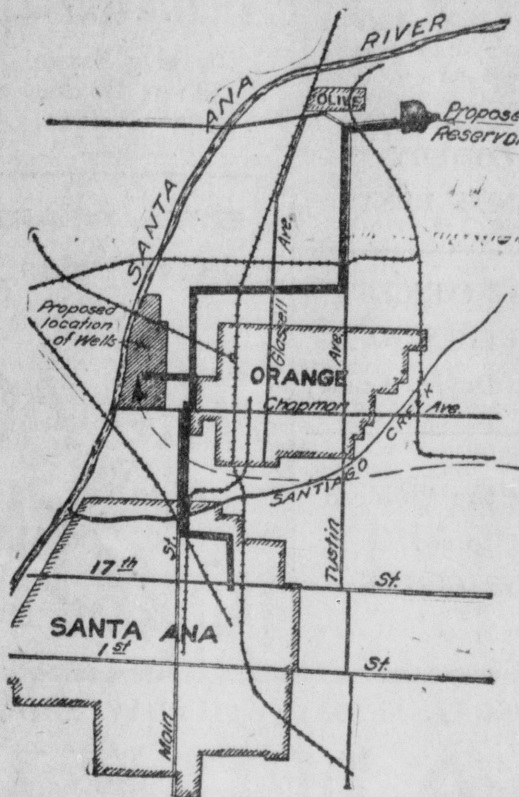

On Tuesday, June 23, residents of the city will express their will on the proposed issuance of bonds in the amount of $1,200,000 for providing this community with a water system that will be adequate for a population several times that of today.

According to Nat H. Neff, city engineer, the system is designed to meet the needs of a population of at least 125,000, with a present reservoir supply of 10 days' average consumption. He pointed out that the reservoir and pipe line are located so that they always will be available for any future gravity supply, either from the Colorado or the Santa Ana rivers.

In his report to the city council on the condition of the system which now is serving the city, J. B. Lippincott, hydraulic engineer, says:

"Some of your pumps are of very reliable and efficient make, while others are old and inefficient. We learned that during the past summer the entire equipment was required to operate practically continuously both in extracting water from the wells and in pumping it into the system. The maximum rate at which water can be withdrawn from the wells is shown in a report of your water superintendent to have been on July 1, 1924, at the rate of 6920 gallons per minute.

MAP SHOWS FEATURES OF PROPOSED WATER PLANT

Here is a map showing principal features of the proposed new municipal water plant. The reservoir at Olive will be 370 feet above sea level and will have capacity for storing 47,000,000 gallons of water. It will be lined with concrete and covered with a roof supported on concrete. The estimated cost, complete, is $340,444. The heavy black line running from the reservoir to Santa Ana represents the cast-iron pipeline to be installed at an estimated cost of $634,469. As indicated on the map, the proposed location of the wells is immediately north of the Chapman street bridge and east of the river. This location was decided on after careful study of ground water conditions in Orange county by J. B. Lippincott, hydraulic engineer, of Los Angeles.

ute. The maximum peak demand on your system was at the rate of 8000 gallons per minute, the reserve being drawn from your reservoir.

"This is a condition which is an unsafe and improper one to exist in a waterworks serving a town as large and important as Santa Ana. It is a condition which creates, in our judgment, an emergency calling for prompt action in obtaining an additional and larger supply."

WILL EXTEND RAILWAY. WASHINGTON, June 10.—The interstate commerce commission has authorized the Southern Pacific company to construct a 10-mile extension of its line in Sutter county, Calif., from Hindsdale to a point in reclamation district No. 70.

Banquet Is Last College Affair

As the closing social affair of the year, Santa Ana junior college students are to hold the annual college banquet at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the Ebel clubhouse.

The affair is planned as a review of the achievements and prospects of the college. Students will give toasts and members of the faculty are to address the gathering.

Principal D. K. Hammond will be the principal speaker. Mrs. Robert Northcross and L. L. Beeman are others who are scheduled to give talks before the students. The banquet will be presided over by Horace Perkins, as toastmaster. Musical entertainment and a complete program have been arranged for the banquet which promises to be one of the big events of the year.

FAMOUS GAVEL TO BE USED AT ROTARY MEET

Stephenson Will Carry Hammer to International Convention In Cleveland

When T. E. Stephenson, president of the Santa Ana Rotary club, and delegate to Rotary International in Cleveland, O., leaves tomorrow morning for the convention, he will carry with him a most unique gavel.

The gavel was presented to the local organization five years ago by the Long Beach Rotarians. It was made by members of the beach city club.

Mac O. Robbins, president of the club, has been searching diligently all morning for a gavel to use at the gathering, but had not been successful. When he saw the end of the mahogany "pounder" protruding from one of the visiting Rotarian's pockets, he could have shouted for joy, he said this morning, in relating the history of the gavel.

Since that time, the "stick" has been used at two international gatherings and at numerous important meetings in the state.

In 1921, the gavel was taken to the international session in Los Angeles by Robbins. In 1923, it was used at the Kansas City meeting, being taken east by William Spurgeon Jr. After an intermission of one year, it again will be used at an international meeting.

The gavel has been used at five district meetings, at five sessions of presidents and secretaries, at 10 inter-club gatherings and at nine sessions where charters have been presented.

Because of the fact that the gavel had been made by Rotarians, its presentation to the Santa Ana club attracted widespread notice.

O. M. Robbins, father of the club's first president, and the alternate delegate, already is in Cleveland.

Stephenson will join the other Southern Rotarians in Los Angeles tomorrow morning.

MUSICIANS OF WORTH PLAY IN S. A. CITY BAND

Strive to Maintain Organization, Representative Of Great Southland

By CLYDE C. DOWNING
(President of Santa Ana Municipal Band Campaign Association)

In times of peace and in times of war, music plays a highly important part in the scheme of things. One of the greatest stabilizing influences of today is good music. The one time when personal prejudice is forgotten, when race distinction is overlooked, when jealousy, envy, hatred, malice and other human frailties are lost sight of, is when an audience is captivated and lifted above such human weaknesses into the realm of good music. From a psychological standpoint, the effect, while not permanent, is bound to reflect in the daily lives of the people.

Underlying every great composition in music is a story or bit of historical interest, and when the people become more interested in music, they naturally begin to inquire into the history of the composition, and from an educational standpoint the effect is quite marked.

The Santa Ana Municipal Band Campaign association, in this publicity effort is not asking the citizens of Santa Ana to join with them in helping to build and mould a band which will do credit to their city, but is asking the citizens of Santa Ana to assist in maintaining a finished product, a musical organization which has gone through the formative period and now stands as a representative band of Southern California.

We are not asking you to subscribe to this campaign without mature thought and deliberation and are striving to impress upon you the importance of keeping intact the band which has been developed through the fine leadership of Prof. D. C. Cianfoni.

We have today a band composed of approximately 60 members, trained musicians, capable of executing the most difficult musical compositions, and we believe the citizens of Santa Ana should consider thoroughly whether or not we are to let this band go to the "scrap heap" because of lack of financial assistance.

The week beginning June 15 has been designated by the band association as "Save the Band week," and you will be given an opportunity to make your subscriptions and at the same time see, hear and fully appreciate the excellence of the band, for during that week the organization will give a free concert in Birch park.

SANTA ANA COUPLE IS HALF CENTURY WEDDED

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hawley, 1101 French street, who last night celebrated their golden wedding. The celebration was arranged by their three children.

GOLDEN DAY IN GOLDEN SOUTHLAND IS GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATION

By ELEANOR YOUNG ELLIOTT

A golden day indeed in the annals of the A. E. Hawley family, pioneer residents of Santa Ana, was yesterday, June 9, 1925, for here in the golden Southland they celebrated their golden wedding day—two of the happiest persons in the whole community if radiant smiles and cordial greetings may be taken as indications of joy.

For last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hawley, 1101 French street, a series of happy events culminated in a surprise party in which nearly 40 of their close friends and relatives joined. Unconscious of any plans to make the day a gala event, Mr. and Mrs. Hawley entered with alacrity into arrangements made by their son, Otto J. Hawley, to spend the day in Los Angeles as his guest at dinner and a theater party at one of the city's most modern theaters. The day was to end with a visit to their first great-grandchild, little Rose Jasper, just four days old. Mrs. Jasper, declare her proud great-grandparents, is quite as sweet as her name and they felt that her arrival was the most wonderful celebration of their golden wedding that they might ask. She is the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Harris Jasper, and was born in Los Angeles, Friday, June 5.

Return to Santa Ana

After a short visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Gray in Los Angeles, the party returned to Santa Ana, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Gray who came ostensibly "for the ride." Arrival at the French street home brought the crowning event of the day, for assembled in the darkened rooms awaiting their arrival, were their many friends, Mr. and Mrs. Hawley were overwhelmed when they heard the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March. Mrs. Hawley nobly took occasion and took their places in the seat of honor reserved for them beneath a bower of ferns and golden blossoms from which yellowed small wedding bells. Yellow flowers were massed everywhere and on the wide mantel, smiling at the bride and groom of 50 years ago, stood a diminutive Kewpie bride and groom. They seemed to enjoy the merriment fully as much as did the other guests when a delegation of Elks arrived and spirited Mr. Hawley from the side of his bride. When he finally returned, sound in mind and limb, he refused to divulge any of the secret rites of Elksdom, but bore an indication of their terrors in the form of a handsome basket of pink roses and delphinium surmounted by a purple clockface whose hands stood at the mystic hour of 11.

Examination of the dozens of appropriate gifts followed with the reading of greetings after which the nephew of the host, Judge E. J. Marks, spoke a few words of greeting and appreciation. Judge Marks was congratulated in his turn by those present upon his recent appointment as superior judge.

An interesting musical feature was the trio of piano, violin and cornet. Mrs. Arline E. Jasper, only daughter of the hosts, and her two sons, Alfred and Irwin, formed the talented group and played appropriate numbers including "Sweetest Story Ever Told," "Sweet Genevieve" and "Gypsy Love Song." Mrs. Elliott gave readings, but the event of supreme interest was when Mr. Hawley related how he carried off the prettiest girl in Oneida county, New York, from under the very noses of a score of other suitors, and made her his bride on June 8, 1875. Mrs. Hawley was Miss Elizabeth Mallory whose dark hair, vivacity and sparkling black eyes, made her the belle of the little town of Verona, where the young folk were married with her mother and his father driving them to the parsonage behind a spanking team of bays.

To Santa Ana in 1877

In 1877, Mr. and Mrs. Hawley brought their little family to Santa Ana, where the business firm which today functions under the name of A. E. and E. M. Hawley was established. For 38 years the family has been identified with the social and business life of the city and today no one in the community is more highly honored than A. E. Hawley and his wife. They have watched Santa Ana grow from a hamlet little larger than Delhi to its present size and importance. And throughout the city and community there would be never a dissenting voice when to them is proposed Rip Van Winkle's famous toast, "May you live long and prosper."

Those enjoying the happy celebration with them yesterday and remaining to share iced fruit punch, heart-centered ice cream and home-made cakes, both angel food and gold cake, included the members of their immediate family who had arranged the surprise, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hawley with their small daughter Ruth Evangeline and Miss Constance Hawley, Mrs. Arline E. Jasper and her two sons, Alfred and Irwin, and Ralph E. Hawley of the home.

Others present were their sister, Mrs. F. A. Marks, Judge and Mrs. E. J. Marks, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ganaway and son Jack, Mrs. Sarah A. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Inslee, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Jeter, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Franches, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Post, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Medlin, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. F. Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hansen, Mrs. Anna G. Nelson, Mrs. Eleanor Elliott, Jack C. Jewett, Alfred J. Perkins, and the group of brother Elks, the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, Walter Hickey, Ralph Cole, H. T. Wilkinson and Franklin Grouard.

The next number will be a special feature, having been set to music by the Frances E. Willard school glee club.

The graduation address will be delivered by Dr. S. S. Sampson, pastor of the Huntington Park Methodist church, and well known clergyman throughout the Southland. Dr. Sampson is a staunch supporter of the public school and has taken an active interest in different educational and child welfare activities.

Following the graduation address, the girls' chorus of the Julia C. Lathrop school will present several selections.

Principal H. G. Nelson, of the Julia C. Lathrop school, will present the graduation class of that school, while Principal William S. Kellogg will perform a similar duty for the Frances E. Willard school.

Presentation of Diplomas

John A. Cranston, city superintendent of the schools, will present the diplomas to members of the graduating class.

The ceremonies will close with the singing of "America" by the audience, and a flag salute to the national colors.

Class day will be observed Thursday at Julia C. Lathrop junior high school and will be featured by a special program. Assembly of the graduating class will be sounded at 1 p. m. Class history will be told in three parts, by Corinne Nelson; medieval, by Howard Bear, and modern, by Dorothy Lindsey. Mary Elizabeth White will entertain her classmates with a piano solo, and the traditional "class will" will be pronounced by Vivian Larson. More music will be furnished by a quartet comprising Ruth Garner, Inez Wilson, Ferdina Peters and Thelma Obarr.

"THE AGE OF INNOCENCE" CLOSING TONIGHT.

"The Age of Innocence," current attraction at the Yost theater, is the screen adaptation of Edith Wharton's novel of the same name which proved a "best seller" and which was awarded the famous and much coveted Pulitzer Prize.

Annually, the Pulitzer School of Journalism makes a number of awards in the arts of journalism. Among them is a prize of $1,000 for the American novel published during the year which shall best present the wholesome atmosphere of American life and the highest standard of American manners and manhood.

"The Age of Innocence" with its keen searchlight on American institutions of marriage and divorce, as compared with the looser standards prevalent in sophisticated circles of Europe, fulfilled these requirements.

Beverly Bayne, one of the most popular screen favorites prior to her retirement, has chosen "The Age of Innocence" as the vehicle for her reappearance to the "screenlight." She has the featured role of Countess Ellen Olenska, who seeks refuge from the revels of European society, and returns to New York, only to face the gossip of narrow-minded aristocrats. Opposite Miss Bayne is Elliott Dexter, while the opposite angle of this interesting triangle is assumed by Edith Roberts. Willard Louis is also in the cast.

"WOMEN WHO GIVE" AT WALKER'S TONIGHT.

Barbara Bedford, Robert Frazer, Renee Adoree, Frank Keenan, Joseph Dowling and Margaret Seddon play the principal roles in "Women Who Give." Reginald Barker's latest production, which comes to the Walker theater today.

The production is an adaptation of "Cape Cod Folks," Sarah P. McLean Greene's classic of the New England coast. It has been filmed in unusually thrilling and dramatic style providing motion picture entertainment of the very highest quality and is decidedly one of the most interesting productions to play in this city.

A wonderfully realistic shipwreck with a fishing schooner smashed to pieces on the rocks, a life and death struggle with a huge swordfish, the firing of a fisherman's cottage and tense dramatic moments too numerous to mention all tend to make "Women Who Give" a photodrama that no lover of motion pictures will care to miss.

TELLS OF ROMANCE BETWEEN GLORIA AND MARQUIS.

An intimate description of the Marquis de la Falaise de la Cour-d'raye, whose marriage to Gloria Swanson took place in Paris recently, is given by Forrest Halsey, the playwright and scenario writer, who spent six months in Paris during the filming of Miss Swanson's newest picture, "Madame Sans Gene," now showing at the West End theater.

Halsey is the only person in the United States who knows the Marquis intimately and what he has to say of him no doubt will be of interest to all motion picture devotees.

"I introduced the Marquis de la Falaise to Miss Swanson," explained Halsey. "In that way perhaps I might be considered the father of the romance. They consider me so, as I received a cablegram, signed by both of them, saying 'your children have done it.' Falaise first came into the unit to represent a number of young men of money, who were ambitious to invest in motion pictures in France. They were anxious to learn American methods. The first thing he asked us to do in the 'it was to cut off his title, his chair on the set was marked: 'Mr. Falaise.' The blood of the Hennesseys which created business industry is strong in Falaise."

"The romance began very slowly as both Miss Swanson and Falaise were devoting themselves strictly to the business of making a picture under very difficult circumstances. Movie situations do happen in real life. I think both youngsters were deeply in love with each other without knowing it; well they know it now; so does all Paris and America."

Farm News From Everywhere

STUDENTS FROM FOREIGN LANDS VISITORS HERE

By H. E. WAHLBERG
County Farm Advisor

Orange county agriculture was given signal recognition last week when a group of foreign students, who are completing work in the college of agriculture of the University of California, visited the county to study some of the outstanding phases of subtropical horticulture as practiced in the fertile Santa Ana valley. The foreigners were particularly interested in the management of irrigation waters, both from the standpoint of spreading the waters in the orchard to produce optimum production of orchard and field crops, and from the standpoint of removing the surplus water in those sections where high water table has been a problem. The drainage districts of the southern portion of the county were visited and particular study was made of the recently completed Newhope district, which is considered by drainage engineers to be the last word in drainage science.

The visitors were shown typical ranching projects in the county, including avocados and citrus at the San Joaquin Fruit company's ranch; lemons and walnuts at Tustin, deep well irrigation at the Irvine ranch, lima bean production at the pea beds near Wintersburg. During their trip through the county, the foreign students were greatly interested in the intensive farming operations found here and indicated that it was their intention to introduce modern methods, as found here, into their native lands.

Among the students who were the guests of the agricultural extension service in the county, were S. G. Deshpande, Calcutta, India; F. U. McCann, Mexico City; Edward Romeina, La Paz, Bolivia; South America; Alex L. Balk, Crimea, Russia; Khalil T. Bekdo, department agriculture, Baghdad, Mesopotamia.

CITRUS MEN PLAN PEST SCHOOL SOON

Citrus growers from all parts of Southern California will meet at Anaheim, June 27 for the annual pest control school, according to announcement from the farm advisors' office. This has become an annual event characterized by heavy attendance. The sessions will open at 9:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m., under the auspices of the agricultural extension service and the farm bureaus of the southern counties. At the morning session, A. A. Brock, horticultural commissioner of the county, will speak on the scale situation in this territory. H. J. Ryan, horticultural commissioner of Los Angeles county, will discuss the 1925 black scale situation in that county. A progress report on the biological control of citrus pests will be submitted by Harry Smith, entomologist of the citrus experiment station. C. V. Newman, Tustin, will preside.

The afternoon session will be presided over by W. A. Johnston of San Dimas. Recent developments in citrus sprays will be handled by Prof. H. J. Quayle, entomologist, citrus experiment station. R. S. Woglum, entomologist of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, is scheduled to handle the very important topic of spraying versus fumigation in eastern Los Angeles county.

HOLD LIGHTING MEET THURSDAY

A new feature in rural community educational work has been introduced by the agricultural extension service, in the form of home lighting demonstrations. The first was held at the Anaheim farm center session Tuesday evening. The second will take place at the Garden Grove farm center meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m., in the women's clubhouse. J. P. Fairbank, extension specialist in agricultural engineering, and W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, are in charge. These demonstrations are purely educational and have no advertising motive behind them. Anybody interested in improved lighting is invited to attend the above meetings.

Figures On Grape Industry Sought By State Office

SACRAMENTO, June 10.—A survey of the grape industry in the state as regards condition of the vines and possible production for 1925 has been inaugurated by the California department of agriculture.

The survey was authorized by G. H. Hecke, head of the department, and will be conducted by R. L. Nougaret, viticulturist of the bureau of plant quarantine and pest control.

Conditions this year affecting the size of the crop differ considerably from those which heretofore were determining factors, according to Nougaret. This year there has been a decrease in acreage, due to several causes, Nougaret stated.

EXPERT OF CITRUS STATION RELATES INTERESTING FACTS CONCERNING ORCHARD PESTS

By PROF. HARRY S. SMITH
Entomologist, Citrus Experiment Station, Riverside

The knowledge has been rather general among the citrus growers, I believe, that the University of California has, during the past year, increased the scope of its foreign explorations for beneficial insects by the appointment of Dr. F. Silvestri to search in the Orient, particularly Southeastern China, and some have been sufficiently interested to ask for a report of progress in this work.

In order that no false hopes be aroused, it should be stated at the outset that we cannot, as yet, make any definite announcements regarding the practical value of our recent importations of beneficial insects. Considerable time must elapse as a general rule before the status of an introduced parasite can be determined, and it should also be borne in mind that importations do not by any means all become introductions. The majority of imported beneficial insects never become established and there are far more failures than successes.

The last time the speaker discussed this general subject before the Lemon Men's club was, I believe, in 1921, at the time when there was a great deal of interest in, and speculation about, the economic value of Aphyus lousburyi, the South African black scale parasite.

Aphyus Valuable
Since then, a sufficient period of time has elapsed to establish pretty definitely in the minds of the growers just what may be expected in a practical way from this parasite. While the final outcome has been somewhat disappointing, Aphyus still has a very definite value in relation to black scale control. For a time, it gave promise of effectively keeping the black scale in subjection in the uneven hatch areas, but the attack of secondary parasites, something which could not have been foreseen, has apparently rendered this complete control impossible. According to the reports of growers, fumigators and horticultural officials, however, it has been effective in evening up the hatch of the black scale in these areas in such a way as to render fumigation much more effective and perhaps to reduce the frequency of fumigation. This, in itself, is a result which is well worth while, and certainly justifies the effort and expense incidental to its introduction and distribution.

Black Scale Expensive
The black scale still remains, therefore, a very important pest of citrus, one which probably costs more to control than all other pests of citrus combined. For this reason, work looking toward the discovery and importation of still other natural enemies of the black scale has been carried on. It has been our hope that we might find a parasite, or parasites, which would not be subject to the attack of the secondary parasite Quaylea and also one which would find conditions to its liking in the more interior citrus sections where the even-hatch condition of black scale prevails. Theoretically, a parasite working only on the very small scales would escape the attack of Quaylea, and a black scale parasite having only a single generation per year might be able to thrive in the interior. While we are striving to introduce all the natural enemies of the black scale that we can locate, we are hoping especially to find parasites meeting the requirements just mentioned.

Station In Africa
We are maintaining a station at Cape Town, South Africa, in charge of E. W. Rust, largely for the purpose of securing additional natural enemies of the black scale, although, of course, our collectors are always on the look-out for any beneficial insects which give promise of value. We have received from this station three principal species of black scale parasites, all belonging to the genus Coccophagus, but none of these three have given any very promising indications of fulfilling either of the requirements previously mentioned. Our species, Coccophagus trifasciatus, is a very small parasite attacking small scale and would undoubtedly escape the attack of the secondary parasite Quaylea. It has been colonized in considerable quantities in various parts of Southern California. It has been recovered from the field, but if it has become permanently established, it certainly has not yet given any indication of becoming abundant. The other two species are considerably larger and attack about the same size scale as Aphyus and would, therefore, be likely to be attacked by the secondary parasite. We have not yet succeeded in finding a black scale parasite whose life-history corresponds with that of its host, that is, having a single generation per year, but it is well known that scale parasites exist which have a single generation per year and we may yet succeed in finding one.

Transfer Collector Soon
Apparently the South African field is about exhausted now, so far as black scale parasites are concerned, and we will have to look elsewhere. Our plans now contemplate the transferring of our collector, Mr. Rust, to other fields about July 1. Probably either South America or Australia will be the next region to be explored. We have records of black scale parasites in both of these regions which have not been introduced into California. So long as the necessary support is forthcoming, we expect to keep up the search, until the possibilities have been exhausted.

Red Scale Dangerous
Next to the black scale, perhaps the pest which causes the greatest loss to the citrus growers is the red scale. From some

GOOD REVENUE EXPECTED FROM STATE'S CROPS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Reports from all sections of California indicate this will be one of the banner years of the state from the viewpoint of crops and revenues.

A heavy season of rainfall, in excess of normal at many points, prepared the ground, kept it moist, and boomed most crops. Late spring rains did damage to berries and cherries, first of the year's agricultural crops, and heavily damaged out hay, but seemed to be of benefit to all other crops.

A significant feature of the coming fruit harvests is that the canners of the state have prepared to make big packs this year. Last year, nearly all of them packed "short," with the result that wholesale houses have very little surplus on hand, and the new pack will be in demand almost as soon as it gets on the market.

Under this condition, the grower will get good revenue, whether his yield is small or large. If it is small, he will get high prices, and if it is large, the demand will be enough to absorb it all at moderate prices. No agricultural industry of the state sees any possibility of low prices to the producer this year.

Labor costs will not be excessively high, for at present it appears that men outnumber jobs. The latest official state figure said labor was 103 per cent normal and demand for labor 88 per cent normal, an approximate 17 per cent excess of men over jobs.

A satisfying feature in prospect for both producers and consumers is the assurance that this year will see an entirely adequate supply of freight cars to move California crops.

Generally speaking, there does not now appear to be any prospect of a cultural crop which does not show

ORANGE COUNTY IS SECOND IN BEAN ACREAGE

Orange county is second in number of acres of regular lima beans planted on irrigated lands, according to a report just issued by R. L. Churchill, secretary and manager of the California Lima Bean association, Oxnard. This county has 9914 acres, as against Ventura's 23,932 acres. Orange county is third in the dry land list, having 2535 acres, as compared with 13,285 for Ventura county and 4872 for Santa Barbara county.

This county has a total of 12,449 acres planted to regular lima beans, consisting of 9914 acres of irrigated lands and 2535 acres of dry lands. In addition to this, there are 150 acres devoted to baby limas.

The total regular and baby lima acreage in California is 79,904 acres, the association states. This aggregate shows an excess of about 8000 acres of regular limas and between 3000 and 4000 acres of baby limas, compared with 1924 plantings.

According to the bean chief, it is impossible to estimate the crop. The total production, under favorable conditions, may be larger than last season, he says.

better prospects than there were last year.

Increased bearing acreages are noted for nearly all crops. Southern California is delighted by good returns on citrus fruits and good outlook for walnuts and cotton.

The deciduous fruit districts have mixed prospects as to size of crops, but good prospects for financial return.

The Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys are assured of prosperous conditions by reason of good rainfall and plenty of irrigation water during the dry season.

Reports on various crops give the following advance prospects: Alfalfa, excess over 1924; almonds, spotted, 55 per cent normal; apples, 25 to 57 per cent normal, smaller crop than last year; apricots, 64 per cent normal, better than 1924; barley, bumper crops; beans, larger than last year; citrus fruits, short crops and high returns; cotton, 12 per cent better than 1924; grapes, normal crop and demand; oats, 93 per cent normal, gain over last year; pears, 84 per cent normal, gain over 1924; plums, 81 per cent normal, small gain over 1924; potatoes, better than last year; prunes, small crop, good return; walnuts, heavy crop; wheat, heavy crop.

Ex-Jayhawkers To Picnic June 20 at Park

ORANGE, June 10.—With the Orange Community chamber of commerce acting as host, all ex-Kansans residing in Southern California are invited to attend the Orange County Kansas picnic which is to be held at the Orange county park, near here, on Saturday, June 20.

Fully 5,000 former residents of the Sunflower state are expected to be in attendance. In order to notify them of the coming event, announcements will be sent to the various Southland papers which together with similar notices to secretaries of the various Kansas county associations, should result in a record crowd.

The program for the day will be entirely informal, consisting of five minute addresses, luncheon and dancing. The picnic will be an all day affair, starting at 10 a. m.

Celebration On July 4 Is Urged At Seal Beach

SEAL BEACH, June 10.—An informal meeting of business men and former members of the Booster Club was held at the Administration Bldg. Monday night for the purpose of arranging for a Fourth of July celebration.

As a small representation of the Booster Club was present, it was deemed advisable to call another meeting for Friday night, June 12, at which time it is proposed to draw funds available in the club treasury toward a celebration of the Fourth of July.

What further work may be undertaken by the club for the Summer will be decided at this meeting also. Four names were added to the membership, including C. E. Sands, J. E. Brink, William E. Carter and C. F. Byrnes.

ANNOUNCE CAST OF PLAYERS IN MISSION EPIC

MISSION SAN JUAN CAPIS-TRANO, June 10.—Historic personages of the days of great Spanish ranchos and fiestas will be portrayed by players who have achieved fame in outdoor spectacles in "The Mission Pageant of San Juan Capistrano," the cast of which today was announced by Garnet Holme, pageant director of national parks, who is staging the play.

The performance will be given at 7 o'clock next Sunday afternoon in an amphitheater in the patio of the old mission on the San Diego highway.

Doris Schukow, who portrayed Ramona in the pageant of that name, and who starred in the mission pageant of Sonora, will be seen in the leading feminine role of Margarita.

Karyl Marker, also a prominent member of the Ramona cast, will portray her young companion, Ramon. Marker is well known for his numerous appearances in outdoor plays.

Earl Schenck, who was on the stage under Daniel Frohman in New York and who has played opposite Norma Talmadge in pictures, will present Father Junipero Serra.

Martha Belfort, well known for her Spanish dances on the stage, will be seen as Martita, the pirate's sweetheart.

Ray Bennett of San Francisco again will be seen as Gov. Arrillaga; George Dunham, dramatic instructor of Pomona College, will play Father Lasuen; Paul Ritter will portray the rollicking Sergeant Ortega, and L. W. White of Mt. Tamalpais pageant fame will appear as Marcus, the whimsical soldier.

At last half the population of San Juan Capistrano, the mission settlement of 700 persons, have applied for parts in the play, according to Holme. The cast will number 100 persons, including many actual descendants of the personages who took part in the colorful episodes of the historic old mission.

The management has arranged many novel features in connection with the pageant, including a bullfight presented by children, the old-fashioned Spanish quadrilles, and the celebrated pantomime of the hacienda days when traveling players visited the ranchos.

PASTOR GIVES FAREWELL SPEECH

FULLERTON, June 10.—"I am laboring under no illusions that I have made a great success in my church work here," said Rev. Walter Thornton today in his farewell address before the Fullerton Kiwanis Club, "but I know that I have only done my best. To be a preacher a man must be many-sided, must suffer, and meet with grief, more than any of you know, but I will leave hoping that my words will have done some good, have helped some over the harder spots of life. Then I will be satisfied."

Thornton said that the world is constantly changing, under the influence of the science of man, and it is the duty of man to meet the progress of the world to meet with the ever advancing requirements of civilization.

He showed the need of more equality between the nations of the world, saying that there was the road to peace. He said that the attitude of the white race was wrong in looking down on the more unfortunate people.

CITRUS MANAGERS GATHER AT CAFE

FULLERTON, June 10.—Representatives of citrus associations and packing corporations from many points in Southern California met last night here in McFarland's Cafe, in the regular meeting of the Managers Association of Northern Orange County. Talks by well known citrus authorities featured the banquet and business session.

The following men who are connected with the California Fruit Growers' Exchange were present: E. G. Dezell, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange; T. H. Powell, lemon sales agent; L. D. Savage, assistant orange sales agent; R. H. McDonald, division manager from Fort Worth, Texas; M. N. Lombard, of the Growers' Service Department; H. H. Pollard, inspector; H. J. Ramsey, manager of the field department of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange; E. T. Castle, president and general manager of the Exchange Orange Products Company, of San Dimas. Mr. Castle spoke on orange by-products.

"Miss Fullerton" Leaves to Enter Santa Cruz Revue

FULLERTON, June 10.—Miss Birdie Mae Green, chosen as "Miss Fullerton" to represent this city in the Beauty Pageant to be held in Santa Cruz on June 10 to 14, left yesterday for the northern city, armed with messages from Mayor H. H. Crook, City Clerk Fred Halmahach, and a local newspaper.

Missing Worker In L. A. Hospital Officer Reveals

ORANGE, June 10.—Located in a Los Angeles hospital, where he had been confined suffering from a nervous breakdown and other complications, Pete Shubert, missing theater worker, employed as under boss at the Adams theater, now under construction, here, today was under the care of a family physician at the home of A. K. Barth, a friend, in Los Angeles, according to information received by City Marshal M. E. Jamison.

Barth located the missing man after he had been notified of his disappearance by W. B. Oliver, bookkeeper at the Sunshine hotel, where Shubert had quarters.

A search of the city hospitals finally brought about the desired results. Shubert, suffering from a nervous breakdown, was removed to Barth's home, where he is under the care of the family physician.

The theater worker vanished under mysterious circumstances nearly three weeks ago. Leaving his automobile and personal belongings at the local hotel, Shubert left on a Saturday evening for Los Angeles, where he intended to visit friends over the weekend.

On the following Monday morning he failed to report for work to T. E. Burchill, time-keeper. As the days dragged along without word from the missing worker, Burchill became uneasy, and reported the matter to local police.

The fact that Shubert, when dropped from sight, carried $250 on his person, gave rise to the theory that he might have met with foul play.

Remove Ban On Beach Campfires In Certain Area

SEAL BEACH, June 10.—The ban on campfires on the beach has been satisfactorily modified through arrangement to allow that privilege between Sixth and Seventh streets on the ocean front and between the roller coaster and Tent City. Fires also are allowed on the Anaheim Landing sands and in the Ord Addition, except on Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets.

This arrangement was made between a committee of business men and P. A. Stanton, representative of the Bayside Land Company, owners of frontage involved. A stipulated condition requires that the sections be kept in condition and be properly supervised. Since this section was the popular one for fires this arrangement is considered satisfactory.

Mayor R. D. Richard's suggestion that cement enclosures be built at regular intervals similar to the furnaces in use at camp grounds may be carried out and it has been further suggested that fuel for such fires be kept available near these locations.

CITRUS EXPERT TALKS OF PESTS

which we have been working is the ladybird Chillocorus kuwanae. This ladybird resembles very closely our native twice-stabbed ladybird, Chillocorus bivulvatus. We have colonized this species, already established in the citrus tracts, in Santa Barbara county, and hope before long to place other colonies in various parts of the citrus belt.

Mealybug Destroyer

Among the ladybirds received from South Africa is a general scale feeder, Exochomus nigromaculatus, which is now being propagated in quantity and seems already established in the citrus tracts. This insect feeds not only on the true scales but on the mealybugs and aphids as well and should prove of some value. All local insectaries have been supplied with colonies and it is now being liberated in the orchards in large numbers. Mr. Rust reports this ladybird to be an effective mealybug destroyer during the cooler months of the year, so it may prove of value in that connection, although it will never compare with Cryptolemus as an enemy of mealybugs.

Receive Two Aphid Feeders

While we have not been searching especially for aphid feeding ladybirds, we have received two species which appear to be of considerable value in this connection and which we have been propagating for distribution. One of these is Oenopia citicella, a South African species. The other is a large orange-colored species, much larger than any American ladybird. This latter was received from China and seems to be an extremely voracious and hardy species. It has been colonized in the orchards and breeding stock has also been supplied to all the local insectaries for propagation and distribution.

This covers, in a very brief way, the new insects with which we are working at the present time. We have of course received other species from our collectors but generally in such small numbers that we have not been able to determine their status.

It is hoped that at least some of these will prove of practical value to the citrus growers. If not, the search should be continued until the possibilities in this field are practically exhausted. There are still large areas in the world where those citrus pests occur and which have not, as yet, been explored by insectaries. It is hoped that we will be able to accomplish this.

(Note.—The foregoing article is a duplicate of a speech given by Professor Smith at the last session of the Lemon Men's club, and was sent to the Register at this publication's request.)

OPPOSITION TO JUNIOR H. S. AT MESA IS SEEN

COSTA MESA, June 10.—Deferred opposition will meet any step to start a junior high school in this territory, according to F. E. Russell, a member of the grammar school board of this city.

Russell said people of the community will refuse to support any step to secure a Junior high school because the step would only result in breaking up the present grammar school system.

"The formation of a junior high school would take away our seventh and eighth grades, which are the most important classes of the school," Russell stated.

Considerable agitation has been stirred up in the district recently over a proposed junior high school for Newport Beach and Costa Mesa it was learned.

That the district would be much more in favor of forming a high school district was the declaration of Russell. Other members of the school board and citizens and business men have also expressed themselves as being opposed to a junior high school but have voiced their approval of forming a high school district.

STARBUCK ROAD COMPLETION IS HELD POSSIBLE

FULLERTON, June 10.—Members of the newly formed Valencia Avenue Improvement association, who are planning for the completion of the famous "Starbuck Road," which has been the nightmare of Fullerton city trustees for nearly 20 years, will meet on Thursday evening, June 11, to take final steps for the paving of Valencia avenue from Spadra road to Magnolia avenue, a distance of about three miles.

The association was formed some time ago, with the sole purpose of bringing direct action on the Starbuck road by the board of trustees of the city. J. E. Phillips was unanimously elected chairman, and immediate action promised.

Petitions have been circulated in a portion of the district, and owners on two miles of the property have declared themselves in favor of a 60 foot highway the entire district. The only opposition which has arisen is that of owners whose property will be damaged considerably by advent of the road.

According to reports made by members of the association, William Starbuck, who formerly opposed any action for completion of a road, is in favor of the proposed 60 foot highway. Hopes for success are now high if Starbuck still supports the proposition, and it is thought the matter will be placed with the city trustees following Thursday night's meeting.

BEACH SCHOOL IS LOOTED OF TOOLS

SEAL BEACH, June 10.—Thieves have once more invaded the school house, carrying off this time some $200 worth of tools used in the manual training rooms. The theft, it is believed, probably occurred Friday night. A window on the north side had been forced open. C. J. Smith, superintendent of the school, had been busy sharpening the tools and getting everything in order for another year during the time since vacation began. Last summer thieves carried away a new Victrola purchased by the Parent-Teacher Association for use of the school.

Costa Mesa

COSTA MESA, June 10.—Members of the Aid society of the local church will hold their regular weekly meeting at the church Thursday all day. The women of the organization will spend the day in quilting. A social hour will be enjoyed at noon when a luncheon will be served. It is expected that about 60 members will be present.

John Seigal was married at Riverside last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Seigal will make their home on Fairview avenue upon their return.

Final plans for the start of the summer vacation Bible school were made here today. The school will open June 15. More than 10 teachers will be employed in teaching the children of the community in the Bible readings and demonstrative work. Mrs. Grow S. Brown is in charge of the arrangements for the school.

Roy King, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. King, is now living at El Segundo where he is employed by the Standard Oil company.

Mrs. Guy Derby of Santa Ana was a guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. King, Monday.

Work is being rushed on the new six-room home of Earl Winterbourne. The house is built on the California bungalow type. It will have hardwood floors throughout and will be strictly modern. It is estimated that the building will cost about $4000.

L. L. Goodman of this city has purchased a new home on Santa Ana avenue near Eighteenth street, it was reported today.

Rev. John Engle and family are spending a short vacation in the mountains.

Theater Fight Case Man Admits Guilt, Pays Fine

FULLERTON, June 10.—A plea of guilty was entered before acting Justice of the Peace H. E. Hart by Ewell Powell, who was arrested yesterday on a charge of battery following a fight in a theater here, and the man was fined $25 by the justice.

According to a report at the police headquarters, Morris stated that the defendant entered the theater and began beating him without any reason. Powell declared that Morris was sitting next to Mrs. Powell.

A fight followed discovery of the pair, during which the entire theater was aroused by cries and shouts. After they were ejected, the men again fought, but were finally stopped by spectators.

ONE TEACHER AT COSTA MESA QUILTS

COSTA MESA, June 10.—The same faculty which taught this year at the local grammar school will return next year with the exception of one teacher. It was reported today by members of the school board, Miss C. C. Foster, manual training teacher, has resigned. She will be replaced by Orvil Northrup. One new teacher will be added to the faculty next year. Miss Clara McNally will have charge of a new class which the rapid growth of the school during the past few months has made it necessary to form.

Trustees of the school have arranged with Miss Mary Hawkins of Orange, to act as supervisor of music at the school next year. Miss Hawkins will spend one day each week at the school. A school nurse has also been employed for one day each week. School trustees also voted an increase in salary of $50 a year to each teacher. J. I. McDowell, local man, was employed by the board to act as janitor at the school next year. Orders for a large amount of new equipment for the class rooms and for the playground were also approved by the trustees.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL NEWS OF ORANGE

ORANGE, June 10.—One of the prettiest June weddings of this city was held Sunday afternoon at the D. Blankmeyer home on North Tustin street on the spacious lawn with the stately palm tree gayly decorated with beautiful spring flowers with potted plants and tall baskets of flowers forming the background for the wedding party where Miss Meta Blankmeyer and Paul Ellis were united in marriage.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. A. Dutzi sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me."

With the opening strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by O. A. Rasbach, dainty little Dorothy Ann Stroka, as flower girl, lead the bridal party to the improvised altar where they were met by the Rev. M. L. Pearson, who read the beautiful marriage service of the Presbyterian church, using the double ring ceremony.

The bridal couple were attended by Miss Sadie Michael, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pritchard, Miss Hilda Dutzi, Northrup Ellis and Henry Blankmeyer.

Another wedding of interest to many local people was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Woods, 220 South Orange street, at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon when their son, Dr. Ralph A. Woods, was united in marriage to Miss Harriett Hendrickson of Oroville. The young people met while they were in training in the Los Angeles county hospital, Miss Hendrickson being a nurse and Dr. Woods an intern after completing his studies in the medical department of the University of Illinois. Dr. Woods is completing a home at 2468 West Pico street, Los Angeles, where he is establishing himself in the practice of his profession and where he and his bride will be at home to their friends after July 1.

At a recent meeting of the Girl Scouts of Troop Two, Lavinia Compton and Adah Dennis, leaders of the first and second patrols, were elected by the girls to be their representatives at Del Mar, the San Diego summer scout camp. This camp is to be held from June 29 to July 13 and is under the direction of Miss Barbara McMillan, the San Diego county director. The camp's activities are varied so as to cover the whole field of scouting and each girl is individually benefited by her two weeks of camp life.

MOLLA MALLORY AFTER WOMEN'S NET TITLE

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Theatrical producers have been envious of the publicity that professional baseball gets from the newspapers. Actors are all more or less jealous of the space that is devoted to the exploits of ball players. They claim that professional baseball is no more of a sport than theatricals and that it should be classified as an amusement and treated as such.

When Babe Ruth was carried out of the Pennsylvania station here several weeks ago after he had collapsed and when the presses of all the metropolitan papers were being held ready for an extra, a well-known producer at one of the theatrical clubs said:

"Perfectly staged. Not a flaw in design or execution. A million dollars' worth of publicity."

The curious way the officials of the New York Yankees handled the reporters who were assigned to cover the Babe caused some suspicion as to the real condition of the home-run king and some of the skeptics did think that it looked like a hippodrome.

Officials of the club wouldn't let newspapermen down on the platform. They wouldn't let them see the Babe in the hospital and they even issued orders that the attendants at the hospital couldn't follow the usual channels in dispensing news about the condition of their patient. All information, it was said, at the hospital would have to come from the business office of the club.

Possibilities that the Babe would appear in the opening game of the season were expressed vaguely. They said one minute he would play and the next minute that he wouldn't. He was well one minute and he had a relapse the next. He was on the front page in every edition for some reason or other.

The whole thing did look very much like a plant, and even when he failed to appear in the first game of the season, it looked like a game was in the making that would be more of an attraction than the opener—a return of the Babe to baseball after a week of concentrated advertising. If the Babe had been playing for any other team in the major league, it would have been accepted as a publicity stunt by most everyone familiar with the ways of crashing into print. But those who are acquainted with Col. Jake Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, and his staff, felt sure that he would not stoop to such methods.

As it turned out, of course, the Babe was a sick man and he was in worse condition than was realized. It was obvious to those who saw him as he was being taken out of the window of the car and being carried to the ambulance that he was either a very sick man or a best actor that ever lived and

On the beautiful links of the Worcester Country club at Worcester, Mass., the closest contest in the history of the play was fought out by Willie MacFarlane and Bobby Jones for the United States open golf title. The upper picture shows the second hole on the play-off. Inset shows Jones congratulating MacFarlane on his victory.

The Babe is too natural to be any kind of an actor. His impulse would have been to the contrary. He would have walked out under his own steam if he had been able to walk, just to show that he wasn't the kind that was licked easily.

GAS MEN WILL MEET EDISONS FOR TITLE GO

When the Southern California Edison company and Southern Counties Gas company teams hook up in their postponed game next week a tie for the championship of the Santa Ana Indoor Baseball league will be at stake.

The Gas company shook off the last shackles that would prevent this when it bumped off The Register team, 6 to 3, at Poly field last night.

Wayne Nelson was too good for the Scribes, his fast ball retiring 16 on strikes. Donny Jerome also hurled good ball. Several of the 10 base hits that were charged to him were not his fault because the Scribes were forced to play short-handed, two of their regulars being out of the game and forcing a makeshift lineup to take the field.

Successful hits by Dick Miller and Wayne Nelson delivered a run for the Gas company in the first inning. A walk and Jerome's infield hit accounted for a Register run in the last half of the same canto.

The Gas men forged ahead in the fourth when after two were out Nelson and Gibson got hits, the former ringing the bell. Taylor brought in another marker in the fifth. The newspapermen scored in the fifth when Jerome doubled and Le Bard singled.

Three Gas company tallies in the sixth, scored on bingles by L. Nelson, Hahn, Miller and Gibson and an error, settled the issue. The Register made their last counter in the sixth on Sylvester's walk and West's single.

The box score:

STUDENTS RALLY TO CROMWELL'S AID

LOS ANGELES, June 10.—Representatives of the student body, Alumni association, and faculty athletic committee of the University of Southern California today recommended to President Rufus B. Von Klein Smid that Dean Cromwell, coach of the U. S. C. track teams, be retained another year.

Cromwell was recently reported on the verge of losing his job, but it is believed President Von Klein Smid will act favorably toward the report of the student body. It is also reported that Cromwell is to receive a substantial increase in salary.

AMES, KEELER LEAD DOUBLES AT PIN MEET

After being held in check for one night, Anaheim's crack bowling delegation made heavy inroads into the opening singles and doubles events of the Santa Ana Bowling Congress at the A. and B. alleys here last night.

The invaders set up the three high scores in the 170 and over class singles when Bill Karam shot 591, Joe Gamboa rolled up a 577 count and Jimmy Heffron counted 570 pins.

Harry Baker swept into first place in the 165 or less division with a series of 593. Henry Stradman knocked off a 564 series to finish second and Mason Yould came in third with 531.

Max Ames and Roy Keeler are in first place in the doubles. They shot 1099. Ed Richards and Horace Snow, with 1075, ranked second and Holmes and Schwartz, two more Anaheim rollers went into third place with 1056.

Almost 30 more bowlers are to go after the singles and doubles marks tomorrow night so many of these scores may be eclipsed. In all contests in the tournament bowling is done across all the alleys, thoroughly testing the skill of the competitors.

Four five-men teams, including a squad from Anaheim, have the floor tonight. The A. and B. Specials, with 2606 pins, are in first place with the Gingham Dogs and Calico Cats, with 2601, holding second money.

Statz Refuses to Sign With Angels

LOS ANGELES, June 10.—Arnold Statz, former Chicago Cub outfielder who was released outright to the Los Angeles baseball club last week, has refused to join the Angels because he is unsatisfied with the terms offered.

Statz was to have left last night to join his new club in San Francisco, but the financial difficulties interfered. The former Cub declares he may go into the real estate business if he does not receive the amount of money he demands from the Angels.

FORMER CHAMP WORKING HARD FOR TOURNEYS

Helen Wills, Kitty McKane Court Contests Expected To Be Best In History

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 10.—Hopes of an international battle for the tennis championship were abandoned long ago but a battle almost as interesting for the American women's crown promises now to be one of the big features of the summer sport schedule.

Just at a time when veterans are right and left along the sport trail, the comeback of Mrs. Molla Mallory, six times the national championship winner, is commanding general interest.

In her first tournament competition of the season at the Englewood Field club, Mrs. Mallory has allowed her opponents only two games. It is true that her opposition has not been pressing but the form that she has shown in her victories has impressed eastern critics.

Mrs. Mallory let it be known to friends last fall that she was going to train seriously for an attempt to get back the championship that was taken away from her by the youthful Miss Helen Wills.

Miss Wills, who is to defend her title, wrote to a New York friend recently that she expected to be in the east the middle of June and said that she was playing the best tennis of her career. It is quite apparent that she would like to even scores with Miss Kitty McKane, the British star, who beat her last summer in Wimbledon. Miss McKane is coming here with the British team that is to play the Americans for the Wightman cup.

With Mrs. Mallory in a real serious mood, the defending champion may have a real contest to save her title and from early indications Bill Tilden will have more of a job to hold the men's championship than he has had in several years. When young Vinnie Richards defeated the champion recently in straight sets, some comment was aroused that Tilden is fading from the strain of so much competition and from the demands of business off the courts. Richards has been threatening for two years and he now seems to be at the place where he is a real hazard for Tilden.

JACK FIELDS STOPS YOUNG; COLIMA WINS

LOS ANGELES, June 10.—Jackie Fields, former amateur world champion featherweight, planted a right on Billy Young's chin after two minutes and 45 seconds of fighting at Vernon last night and the knockout proved the feature of the card.

Though the boys were fighting the six-round semi-windup, Fields took the glory away from the Bert Colima-Harry Melcar main event by the quick manner in which he finished Young.

Colima, Whittier middleweight, threw gloves from every direction and outpointed Melcar to take a 10-round decision. The bout was lacking in excitement.

Helen Wills Will Defend Her Title

BERKELEY, Calif., June 10.—After playing in the Pacific Coast Tennis tournament June 20-28, Miss Helen Wills, American women's tennis champion, will go east the last of June or first of July to defend her title in a series of appearances, she told the United Press today.

The National Association of Amateur Oarsmen held its first regatta Oct. 8, 1873, on the Schuylkill River course at Philadelphia.

Grand Central Market to Celebrate Third Birthday

GENERAL PUBLIC INVITED BY MERCHANTS TO ENJOY DANCE THURSDAY EVENING

The Grand Central market, declared by Linn L. Shaw, president of the Santa Ana Development company, owners, to be the biggest and best equipped market in any city under 100,000 population, will hold its third annual birthday celebration tomorrow evening.

The celebration really begins Thursday morning, it is announced.

A dance, to which the public is invited, will be held in the evening. A high-class orchestra will provide music for the event. The floor of the market will be given a thorough coating of wax. A number of old-fashioned square dances will be featured.

The Grand Central building, of which the market is a part, occupies practically an entire block, being bounded by First, Second and Broadway. The property on which the structure is located was purchased in August, 1922, from the Spurgeon Realty company.

Original Building Improved

The original market occupied ground space 75 by 250 feet and was one story in height. Later, improvements were made which covered the block with the exception of a space at Broadway and First street, which is occupied by a Union Oil company filling station.

Some size of the market may be gained when it is known that it occupies 24,375 square feet.

The Grand Central market, demonstrating that it is modern in every respect, has provided free parking space. At Second street and Broadway, 10,100 square feet of space are available for patrons.

In the market, rest rooms for both men and women have been provided.

Leases of most of the merchants expired recently and with few exceptions, all signed again, some of them for five years, President Shaw stated today.

Good Time Assured All

"Last year's celebration was a great success and we believe that the one this year will be just as successful. Everyone is invited to the dance. The floor will be specially prepared with wax and none need feel that he will not enjoy himself."

Shaw, who has been interested in the market business for many years, says that Santa Ana may lay claim to having the largest market of any city under 100,000. There is nothing to compare with the Grand Central in size anywhere in cities whose populations are under 100,000 people, he states.

The local man became imbued with the market idea while in Washington, D. C., in 1898. He made it a point to make a close investigation of the Washington market, as well as others in various parts of the country. As a result, the Grand Central contains features common only to
